34 1-2 MILES OF STREET AND ALLEY IMPROVEMENT IN 1922 PROGRAM

City Administration Announces Bids Will Be Asked For Soon on Largest Annual Street Work Program Since 1908—Work to Begin This Year.

COST EXPECTED TO TOTAL $2,580,000

Abutting Property Will Be Taxed to Pay for Work—23 1/2 Miles of Street Work Included in Improvement Plan.

The city administration has started its motion plans for 34 1/2 miles of street and alley reconstruction and resurfacing work, which will be begun this year, and announced today that bids for the work, which will cost an estimated total of $2,580,000, will be called for soon.

This is the biggest annual street program which has been prepared since 1908. The work will be charged to abutting property owners, by special tax bills, so that it is not dependent either on bond issue or city finances.

23 1/2 Miles of Street Work.

There will be 23 1/2 miles of street work and 11 miles of alley work. W. W. Horner, chief engineer of street and alley construction, announced the program today, of which the following are the major jobs:

Broadway, from Clark avenue to Chippewa street, about three miles, granite blocks, estimated cost, $270,000.

Chouteau avenue, from Broadway to Jefferson, about a mile and a half, granite, $150,000.

Arsenal street, from Broadway to Gravois avenue, about a mile and a half, granite on the east end, asphalt on the west, $110,000.

Easton avenue, from Marcus avenue to King's highway, about three-quarters of a mile, granite, $50,000.

Watson road, Southwest avenue to city limits, about two and three-quarter miles, eastern half concrete and western half graded and macadamized, $185,000. This is an important link in the southwestern route to the principal suburbs, and the concrete pavement will connect with smooth streets in the Gratiot district.

Asphalt on Clayton Avenue.

Clayton avenue, from Billon avenue to city limits, about a mile and a half, asphalt, $175,000.

Morganford road, from Fryer avenue to Gravois avenue, brick, about a mile and a half, $163,000. Another important connecting thoroughfare.

Carr street, from Fourteenth street to Jefferson avenue, about a mile, asphalt, $91,000.

Russell avenue, from Broadway to Tower Grove avenue, about three miles and a half, resurfacing with blueolithic paving, $182,000.

The remainder of the work comprises reconstruction or resurfacing of small streets and alleys, or short stretches. The granite blocks to be used on some streets are of the "red-dressed" variety, which is a trimmed block that eliminates roughness to some extent.

Some of the streets that are to be improved have been in the condition that has led some residents to compare them with "the shell holes of a battlefield." An instance of this is the Clayton avenue stretch. The improvements were instituted either by the Board of Public Service or at the request of citizens to the Board. Ordinances for the work have been passed, many of them recently.

Work will commence soon after contracts are awarded. If bids are called for soon, letting will probably be held each Tuesday and Friday in the spring. The work will be carried on until winter, but some of it may not be finished before next year.

Contractors are paid by the special tax bills, which they may hold to collect from property owners, but which they usually turn over to banks. Property owners do not have to pay their bills at once, but must pay interest if they delay.

The improvement program got under way last year comprised 16 1/2 miles of street work and 4 1/2 miles of alley work, with a total cost of $1,847,000. The record volume was a total of 36 miles, for $2,143,000, in 1908, when the program of 1903 was for the same mileage, with a cost of little more than $2,000,000. This year's program will cost more per mile because of increased prices.

ORGANIZED THEFT BY SPECIAL POLICEMEN IN KANSAS CITY

Employees of Private Detective Agencies Said to Have Confessed Looting Places They Were Hired to Protect.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 7.—Organized robbery by special policemen of private detective agencies, looting the stores and homes they were paid to protect, was disclosed last night in the signed statement of five of eight men held at police headquarters. All eight men have worked for the Midwest Secret Service Agency. Three still are employed there. Two are patrolmen for the South Side Protective Patrol. One is with the Gate City Detective Agency.

The robberies have extended over a period of more than a year, according to the signed confessions, and have run up a total of stolen goods reaching into thousands of dollars.

Goods valued at more than $2000 were recovered last night in the homes of some of the men, and the statements tell of many items being sold and the money divided.

Organized Looting.

Downtown stores, wholesale houses and shops are included in the list of victims. An open window, an unlocked door and the scene was laid for a theft. In many cases minor robberies were discovered by the private patrolmen, other private patrolmen were called to the place and systematic looting carried on.

3,500,000 M. & N. A. LOAN AUTHORIZED BY THE I. C. C.

Of This Amount $500,000 Is to Be Used to Make Additions and Betterments to Property.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 7.—A Government loan of $3,500,000 for the Missouri & North Arkansas Railroad was authorized today by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Of the total advanced by the Government, $500,000 will be used to make additions and betterments to the property, while the balance will pay off existing indebtedness and assist the formation of a new corporation, which will advance $7,000,000 in bonds as collateral for the Government.

MAN POLICE SAY BEAT CAMPANELLA DENIES CHARGE

Italian Declares Prisoner, Whose Face Was Already Bruised, Told Him of Beatings by Detectives.

Other Charges of Brutality Made

Wife of Miner Tells of Seeing Husband Kicked and Beaten to Force Him to Sign Robbery Confession.

The charge of Chief of Detectives Nevill of East St. Louis that Tana Rollo, an Italian, of 1127A North Rollo street, St. Louis, and not the police, assaulted John Campanella, a prisoner in the East St. Louis jail, who died in his cell the night of March 25, was emphatically denied by Rollo today at his home.

Speaking through interpreters to a Post-Dispatch reporter, Rollo declared he did not strike Campanella or do anything to cause injury to Campanella.

The East St. Louis police have stated that Campanella, who was held as a murder suspect, hanged himself in his cell, using his shirt as a noose. But, as told exclusively in yesterday's Post-Dispatch, Dr. Downey L. Harris of 4345 Parkview place, St. Louis, former City bacteriologist, who performed an autopsy, has said the autopsy disclosed that Campanella died from cerebral hemorrhage, which could have been caused by injuries found on the head, and not from hanging, as there was not the slightest evidence of strangulation or blood congestion.

Investigation Ordered.

The East St. Louis City Council has ordered the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners to make a thorough investigation of reported charges that Campanella had been strangled by the police and to report back to the Council. The whole situation will be laid before the St. Clair County grand jury this morning.

Rollo, a clothes presser by trade, is 35 years old, is married and has six children. He cannot speak or understand English. When seen at his home today and questioned by the East St. Louis police he said that he struck Campanella when the latter accused him of the murder of Charles Lemon in Campanella's rooming house, 205 S. Locust avenue, East St. Louis, March 20, Bello gave the Post-Dispatch what he declared to be a truthful version of what occurred.

About 2 a. m. Wednesday, March 23, he related, a lot of policemen from East St. Louis came to his home, made a lot of noise, searched the house for revolvers and frightened his wife and children. He was taken to the Carr Street Station and had me put my mark on a paper.

(Rollo cannot write English, and his mark, serving as his signature, was presumably placed upon a waiver of extradition.)

Officers Showed No Warrant.

The officers, he said, displayed no warrant and did not inform him of the reason for his arrest. He was taken at once to East St. Louis and remained until 9 a. m., when he was taken upstairs to the detectives' room. There he saw Campanella for the first time since the latter's arrest.

He noticed that Campanella had a black eye and was holding his head in his hands. The two men, who were acquainted, spoke to each other in Italian, Rollo said, and Campanella remarked, "I have been telling all because they beat me so."

Rollo added that Campanella complained of suffering from pains in the head. Nothing more was said at that time, and Rollo was taken back to a cell.

None Identified Him.

About 2 p. m., Rollo continued, he was taken before several persons in the vicinity of 2005 Missouri avenue, where Lemon was killed, but none of them identified him as one of the men who were seen fleeing from Campanella's place after the murder. He was then taken back to police headquarters and to the detectives' room, where he was again made to face Campanella. The two men spoke to each other again.

Rollo said the detectives said something to Campanella and he replied, pointing to Rollo, "Yes, he kill him."

"I stepped forward," Rollo related, "and seized his coat lapel with my right hand, shook my left fist in his face, spat in his face and exclaimed, 'I kill him!'"

Rollo said Campanella made no reply, and he took his silence as a retraction of the charge. He related his grasp of Campanella's coat lapel, he said, and stopped backward and was taken downstairs. Says Campanella Had Bruised Eye.

Amplifying his remarks concerning the eye, Rollo said that he saw the eye of the man who was killed.

GUilty PLEA HALTS MURDER TRIAL AT EDWARDSVILLE

Police Sergeant of Collinsville in Chase After Holdup Last Jan. 12.

CASE WAS GOING INTO THIRD DAY

Plea Made After Witness for State Testifies Defendant Suggested Highway Robbery.

The facts surrounding the murder of Thos. Benry, City Treasurer of Collinsville, Ill., who at night also served as desk sergeant at the Collinsville police station, was suddenly halted, as it was about to enter upon its third day this morning in the Circuit Court at Edwardsville, by announcement of Bethel's counsel that the defendant desired to plead guilty and throw himself upon the mercy of the court.

Announcement followed a conference of Bethel's lawyer and members of Benry's family after Morris Arrowsmith, a State's witness, had testified that Bethel had suggested committing highway robbery a few minutes before Benry was slain.

The facts surrounding the murder, as they had been related by other witnesses, were that on the night of Jan. 12 Benry was shot by a highwayman in a chase following the holdup of Mrs. Catherine Johnson a few blocks from the Collinsville police station. Benry and the highwayman had exchanged shots, and a few minutes after Benry was killed, Bethel was found in a garage nearby suffering from bullet wounds in the chest and legs.

Unswerving Testimony.

Bethel was relying upon Mrs. Johnson's inability to positively identify him as the highwayman, although she had told policemen when Bethel was arrested, that he closely resembled the robber. The testimony of Arrowsmith, which came as a complete surprise to him, appeared to unnerve him and he later sought a conference with his lawyer.

The lawyer today informed Judge Gilham that Benry's widow had said that she would be satisfied if Bethel was sentenced to life imprisonment. She told the lawyer, he said, that she would not demand the "pound of flesh."

After accepting Bethel's plea of guilty, Judge Gilham stated he would take the matter of punishment under advisement. Under the laws of Illinois death sentence may be imposed by a judge on a plea of guilty to murder.

Case Under Advisement.

"This is too serious a question to pass on in haste," said the judge. "The court must set an example for others who might follow in Bethel's footsteps. I will take the case under advisement."

The State's Attorney had declined to make any recommendation as to punishment, in view of the fact that the court had heard most of the State's case.

While his counsel was addressing the court, Bethel sat in the back part of the courtroom with his wife, who was weeping bitterly. He was heard to remark to her that, if he thought there was any chance of his being sentenced to death he would have preferred to leave his case in the hands of the jury. Later he was taken back to jail to await the court's decision.

GOVERNMENT SUES TO CLOSE KOERNER'S RESTAURANT

Assistant Attorney-General Would Have Place Declared Nuisance Under Volstead Act.

An injunction proceeding under the Volstead act was filed today in the Federal Court by Special Assistant Attorney-General Dyott against the Merchants' Catering Co., 408 Washington avenue, seeking to declare the place a public nuisance and have it closed for one year. Ernst A. Koerner, 67 years old, who has been fined three times and sentenced to jail for violation of the Volstead act, is president of the company.

After asking that the place be declared a nuisance and closed for a year, the petition seeks a permanent injunction against the sale of liquor on the premises. Judge Farie issued a temporary restraining order against the selling or storing of liquor on the premises, and also an order to show cause, returnable April 10.

Koerner is at liberty, having been given a stay of execution on the 3 months' jail sentence on the representation that he is too ill to go to jail.

BRITISH DELEGATES LEAVE LONDON FOR GENOA CONFERENCE

Prime Minister Lloyd George Heads Party of 20 Which Includes His Wife and Their Daughter.

WILL CONFER WITH POINCARÉ IN PARIS

Premier Smiling Cheerfully, but Unable Entirely to Conceal His Careworn Expression.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, April 7.—The French and British delegations to the Genoa conference are going to work together with a determination to make that gathering, which opens Monday, a success. Prime Minister Lloyd George of Great Britain said tonight after an hour's talk with Premier Poincaré. The two Premiers had their conversation in Lloyd George's sleeping car while his train for Italy was waiting at the Gare du Nord and being switched over to the Mediterranean line.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, April 7.—Smiling cheerfully, but unable entirely to conceal his careworn expression, Prime Minister Lloyd George headed a party of 20, including his wife and their daughter, Mewgan, which departed today for Genoa, the scene of the international economic conference which opens Monday.

Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, Secretary for War, and Sir Robert Horne, Chancellor of the Exchequer, accompanied the Premier. Others in the party were Sir Maurice Hankey, secretary to the delegation, and Sir Philip Sassoon. Marquis Curzon, who is ill, departs next week.

Russian Problem Looms as Supreme Issue at Conference

Wistful Regret for Absence of America Already to Be Found at Genoa.

By the Associated Press.
GENOA, April 7.—The majestic monument of Columbus dominating the square before the Central Railroad station, where it seems to welcome the arriving delegates to the economic conference, is accepted as a symbol by the Genoese that Genoa has discovered a new world and thus an ancient Italian city, again molding history, will prove the central point for the rebuilding and saving of the old world suffering from the effects of the war.

Nothing could be in greater contrast to the stately modern Washington as the seat of a great conference than Genoa, for here almost everywhere suggests the remote past—an antiquity antedating the Christian era. Ancient palaces, churches with treasures of art, rambling thoroughfares, some so narrow that they seem mere sword clefts in piles of ruins meet the eye on arrival, while numerous strolling guardsmen and occasional bodies of troops moving slowly through the city instinctively warn that Genoa is about to be the theater of an immense world effort to bring about order.

Russia the Big Problem.

If anything were needed to prove the strange upheaval of political conditions, the arrival of the Bolshevik delegates furnished it; they came brought out that the theft occurred after Bremer and the girl had spent the night touring bars and cafes. Bremer told the court that he did not want her punished.

"I only wanted her to have a jolly good time," said Bremer. "I did not see her. One of her jealous friends reported her to the police."

300 GOLF AND 507 TENNIS PERMITS ISSUED FIRST DAY

Park Department Ready to Make Reservations for Picnic Parties—Pool Opening June 15.

Three hundred permits to play golf on the municipal links and 507 tennis permits were issued by the Park Department yesterday, the first day of issuance for this season. It was predicted that a record number of permits will be distributed this year.

There is no charge, since bills that would have required payment were defeated by the Board of Aldermen. Permits may be obtained by mail, if return postage is sent with the application to the Park Department, Municipal Courts Building.

The department is ready to make reservation of picnic grounds on ten-day days for schools, churches and other organizations. The swimming pools and playgrounds will be opened about June 15.

POWERFUL BOMB FOUND UNDER WINDOW OF M'MULLIN HOME

Mechanic Had Failed to Explode at 2 A. M.; Widow of Steel Magnate Resided in House.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 7.—A dynamite bomb, which the police say was powerful enough to wreck a large building, was found early today under the window of the home of Mrs. Annie McMullin, widow of Matthew E. McMullin, steel magnate and stock broker, the police announced this afternoon.

An alarm clock mechanism had been set to touch off the bomb at 2 o'clock this morning, but it failed to explode. The bomb was in a suitcase, in which were found 30 sticks of dynamite, four dry batteries, a coil of wire. Charred paper showed that sparks had been made by the ignition apparatus, but a heavy rain is believed to have prevented its functioning properly.

YEAR FOR STEALING $5000

American Didn't Want Berlin Chorus Girl Punished.

BERLIN, April 7.—Miss Cecilie Schulz, a chorus girl, yesterday was sentenced to one year in prison for stealing $5000 from an American citizen who gave her the name of Julius Bremer, a farmer, living near Dayton, O. In court it was brought out that the theft occurred after Bremer and the girl had spent the night touring bars and cafes. Bremer told the court that he did not want her punished.

"I only wanted her to have a jolly good time," said Bremer. "I did not see her. One of her jealous friends reported her to the police."

Collisions between airplanes were not unusual during the war when flocks of machines were moving swiftly in a comparatively desolate area. The meeting in mid-air of these two aerial expressmen, however, almost inconceivably transpiring the very same air channel out of the virtually insensible and available, constitutes one of the most remarkable happenings in the history of aviation.

PROSECUTOR SAYS NO JURY WOULD CONVICT DAY

County Attorney, in Signed Statement, Declares Belief That Oil Man Shot Beck
in Defense of Home.

HANDKERCHIEF WAS IN OFFICER'S HAND

X-Ray Shows Weapon Was Against Back of Head; Mrs. Day Said to Have Moaned, "Oh, My Honor."

By the Associated Press.
OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., April 7.
—County Attorney Forrest Hughes in a signed statement to newspaper men today concerning his investigation of the slaying of Lieutenant-Colonel Paul Ward Beck by Jean P. Day, prominent local lawyer and oil man, in the latter's home here early last Tuesday morning, said he believed Day fired in defense of his home and not of his life, and that the X-ray photograph of the officer's head indicates that the army officer was not looking at Day when the fatal shot was fired.

Day had previously stated that when he found Beck in the act of attempting to assault Mrs. Day he struck the officer on the head with a pistol after the latter had made a motion as if to strike him, with his hand.

Day said also that the revolver was accidentally discharged from the impact of the blow.
The county attorney's statement said that before any revolver was fired or any blow was struck "Day saw something that swept him off his feet." He added that in his opinion Day had not told the whole truth concerning the tragedy.

"I am frank to say," Hughes continued, "that if Judge Day should tell the whole truth, no jury of red-blooded citizens would ever render a verdict against him. I am equally candid to say that I believe that so far Judge Day has not told the whole truth."

Handkerchief in Beck's Hand.
The handkerchief which Lieutenant-Colonel Beck clutched in his hand when he was shot, was taken over by authorities has a significance in the case which has been overlooked so far, the county attorney said.
"Previous to the shooting Day and Beck had been in the house waiting for the arrival of a guest," Hughes said. "What extraordinary circumstances changed the mental condition of the one toward the other?
What caused Mrs. Day after the shooting to moan 'Oh, my honor'?"
These two are the vital questions in the extraordinary tragedy.

"In my opinion," Hughes continued, "there is no doubt that intoxicating liquors were indulged in at the Day home during the fatal night and morning. However, I do not think that Judge Day was in any way under the influence of liquor at the time the shot was fired."

Revolver Adjacent to Head.
Hughes stated that one thing "absolutely certain" in his mind was that the revolver was discharged while immediately adjacent to the head of Paul Beck.

Whether or not the deceased was shot from the front or back," added the county attorney, "is one of the greatest questions involved in this case. The position of the lead in the head of Paul Beck as shown by an X-ray photograph, struck Campanella had a bruised and discolored eye when he first saw him. He did not see Campanella after that meeting."

Chief of Police Mulcahy questioned Rollo downstairs and decided that he should be released. Rollo said a detective then gave him 15 cents for bridge toll and told him to go. As he was leaving, he said, one of the detectives gave him a parting kick. He then hastened back to this city and hopes he will not have to go back to East St. Louis.

Chief of Detectives Nevill told a Post-Dispatch reporter Wednesday that Rollo, when accused of the murder by Mulcahy, struck Campanella in the face with his fist, and seized him by the throat and choked him and while choking him beat his head and shoulders against a heat radiator in the detectives' office before five officers who were present could restrain him.

The autopsy disclosed bruises all over the top of the head, both eyes bruised and swollen almost shut, severe bruises to the chest, arms and both sides of the body.
Commissioner of Public Buildings
Whalen, as has been said, Campa-nella told the five men in the detectives' office assaulted him with a piece of rubber hose. One of the men, a city detective, was pointed out to what sailants.

would be available for those interested in the case.

Mrs. Day, who this morning was reported in an extremely nervous state, was said to be somewhat improved. Her sister, who is attending her, said she would be in a condition to testify at the investigation.
Mr. Day is also expected to relate the events surrounding the slaying on the stand tomorrow.

Officers at Post Field ordered that the body of the army officer be held here until tomorrow, in order that his son, Lieut. Paul Ward Beck, and Lieut. John Beck, a nephew, could attend the inquest. Both will accompany the body to Washington after the inquest.

Sheriff Ben Dancy said his inspection of X-ray pictures of Beck's head led him to the belief that Beck was shot from behind. Day declared that to be impossible.

Sister-in-Law of Beck Assails Charges Made by Day and Wife.
Mrs. Edith Safford of Lyons, Neb., sister-in-law of Lieutenant-Colonel Beck, arrived in St. Louis today to accompany the body to Arlington Cemetery in Washington.
The body, in charge of Lieutenant-Colonel Beck's son and several brother officers, is scheduled to reach here tomorrow morning.

"Those who knew Col. Beck do not for an instant believe the preposterous charges made by the Days in an attempt to save Mr. Day from his just punishment for murder," said Mrs. Safford. "The conflicting stories told by the Days are rapidly convincing even strangers of Col.
Beck's innocence."

MAN POLICE SAY BEAT CAMPANELLA DENIES CHARGE

ing what occurred in the detectives' room, Rollo emphatically denied that he struck or injured Campanella at any time, pointing out that Campa-nella had a bruised and discolored eye when he first saw him. He did not see Campanella after that meeting.

Chief of Police Mulcahy questioned Rollo downstairs and decided that he should be released. Rollo
said a detective then gave him 15
cents for bridge toll and told him to
go. As he was leaving, he said, one of the detectives gave him a parting
kick. He then hastened back to this

NURSES ACQUITTAL MOVES CROWD TO EMOTIONAL FRENZY

Jury Beams as It Returns
With Verdict for Olivia Stone, Tried for Killing
One-Time Admirer.

DEFENDANT BLOWS KISSES TO CROWD

Densely Packed and Excited Crowd Cheers, Screams and Sobs at Announcement.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, April 7.—"Not guilty" was the verdict which set Miss Olivia M. P. Stone free at 10 o'clock last night. Then pandemonium. The roar of applause in the Court defied the efforts of the Court officers to suppress it. The jury which had last night at the home of Mrs. John Gross, one of the matrons at Raymond street jail, in which she had been imprisoned. She went back to the jail after receiving her freedom, intending to sleep in her cell, but changed her mind at Mrs. Gross's insistence.

Today she went shopping for new clothes and took temporary quarters at the Young Women's Christian Association in Brooklyn.
Miss Stone shot and killed Kinkead, former Corporation Counsel of Cincinnati, in South Elliott place, Brooklyn, late in the afternoon of Aug. 3, 1921. Tried on an indictment for first degree murder, her defense was temporary, termed "brain explosion," a mental condition which, when it was maintained, was predicated on acts of the slain man.

"Sheffield" Fraud Alleged.
SHEFFIELD, April 7.—Manufacturers here are much disturbed by reports that some unscrupulous American competitors are flooding the markets of the United States with silver and electroplate fraudulently marked "Sheffield." These English manufacturers have been informed by leading New York stores that the word "Sheffield" has deteriorated into a symbol of doubtful value because of unfair trade practices. The English manufacturers are at a loss how to protect themselves.

Blows Kisses to Crowd.
Miss Stone stood at the top of the curving staircase of marble. She faced the densely packed and excited men and women filling every floor and covering every vane of the staircase. They were wild. Many of them were sobbing as they screamed. All of them were frantic with emotion. Even when somebody ran up and handed her her handbag, purse and gloves a great shout shook the place as if a word had been freed instead of one woman.

The jury retired at 11:28 o'clock in the morning and in midafternoon asked that the testimony of the alienists be read. They retired again about 6 o'clock. Nothing was heard from them until a moment before announcement that a verdict had been reached.

Aided by Two Matrons.
The pressure to get into the courtroom was tremendous. Everybody seemed worked up. Miss Stone was brought into court for the reading of the alienists' testimony.
Two matrons assisted her to the bar. She was brought in to hear the verdict. They held her up, but she did not appear to fear the worst. One glance at the jurors was enough to encourage the friends of the defendant. The jurors were jaunty. Some of them were almost smiling. They caught themselves in time and attempted a perfunctory grimace.

Charles Van Brunt, the foreman, announced the verdict:
"Not guilty." There was no qualification. The jury, who had straightened up, listened with apparent apathy while Judge Aspinall addressed her. "I take great pleasure in informing you that you are a free woman," he said to the defendant.

Kisses the Wrong Man.
Miss Stone flopped down, full length on the counsel table in front of her. Then she rose and tried to kiss her counsel, Edward J. Reilly.
By mistake she kissed a reporter named Anderson, who happened to step, at that instant, into the place where Reilly had stood beside his client.

Justice Aspinall throughout the trial had taken evident and acute interest in the unusual character. He told the jury on one occasion he believed the frequent fainting fits of the defendant were not for effect, but were genuine effects of physical collapse, and he referred to the case more than once as a very distressing one.

"As exclusive judges of the facts in this case," he told the jury last night, "you have found the defendant not guilty of the murder of Ellis G. Kinkead. The public must abide by your decision, for you are the sole judges of the facts. Your verdict may not be approved by some, but this woman has been tried by 12 fair-minded and good citizens of Brooklyn, and they are the exclusive judges before the law and the people of what their verdict should be."

Will Go to Her Mother.
Then he addressed Miss Stone and told her she was free.
Miss Stone is going to hurry home to her aged mother in Tompkins-

Gen. Bruce Announces His Forces Are Ready on Schedule for March to Summit of Mount Everest

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright, 1922.)

LONDON, April 6.
The Royal Geographic Society today received a message from Brigadier-General Bruce, saying the Mount Everest expedition had arrived at Phari Dzong in excellent health.

Phari Dzong is on the border of Tibet and is the point at which the expedition turns westward through southern Tibet directly towards Mount Everest. Hitherto the Bruce expedition's advance has been northward. Gen. Bruce, in his dispatch from Darjeeling, India, March 22, said he hoped to have the entire expedition at Phari Dzong by April 5 or 6, ready to start into Tibet. The dispatch above shows he has been able to keep the schedule, apparently escaping the difficulties which impeded the early stages of the first expedition under Col. Bury last year.

WOMAN LEFT $5000 HAD BEEN IN CORUM'S EMPLOY 16 YEARS

Miss Josephine Goetten, to whom
the $10,500 provided in his will yesterday for the three women employed in the offices of his law firm of Jeffries & Corum, entered his employ 16 years ago when he was practicing law in Boonville, Mo.
She became his secretary upon being graduated from business school, and, besides her regular stenographic work, kept up his files and handled all business details. She came with him to St. Louis in 1907, when he entered the law firm that became Harlan, Jeffries, Wagner &
Corum, and when Corum and Sam B. Jeffries withdrew, she became secretary to both of them.

Miss Goetten now is cashier and bookkeeper for several other firms.
She intends to invest her gift from Corum. She lives with her mother at 1209 A. Walton avenue.
Miss Mary Ross and Miss Julia English, stenographers, are to receive $5000 and $300, respectively.
They are undecided as to what they will do with their bequests. Miss Ross thinks she will put hers in the bank.

Miss English has been employed by the firm six years and lives at 452 Adelaide avenue. Miss Ross began working for the firm in July, 1919. She resides with her parents,
Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Ross, at 3441
Humphrey street.

Illinois University Students Wed.
EPPINGHAM, Ill., April 7.—News has been received here of the marriage at Monticello, Ill., of Miss Helen Taylor, daughter of Attorney and Mrs. G. F. Taylor, of this city, to Gordon Mills of Orleans, Ind. Both are students at the University of Illinois.

Reginald Gouraud to Marry.
PARIS, April 7.—Mrs. Almee Crocker Gouraud of New York and San Francisco today announced the engagement of her son, Reginald, to Roberta Acuff, the divorced wife of David Joyce, brother of Stanley Joyce of Chicago. The wedding will take place shortly and the honeymoon will be spent at Biarritz. Reginald served in the French air corps during the war.

the little omission and remarked that the election was over anyway and dismissed the case.

BURGLARS LOOT HOME IN ABSENCE OF FAMILY

Jewelry and Clothing Valued at $4475 Taken From 6273
Clemens Avenue.

While Mrs. Max B. Pätz, 6273 Clemens avenue, was out driving yesterday afternoon, burglars entered her home, took money, jewelry and clothing valued at more than $4475, and left the place in topsy-turvy shape, with clothing strewn about the floor, mattresses upended and the contents of dresser drawers scattered from one end of the house to the other.

Among the things taken by the burglars was the diamond engagement ring of Mrs. Pätz, set with three diamonds and valued at $800, which her husband gave her almost four years ago. Listed also were another diamond ring, set with three stones in a wishbone effect, valued at $700; a wrist watch set with 60 diamonds and 20 sapphires, valued at $1500, and other less valuable pieces of jewelry aggregating $219. The burglars also took a sealskin coat valued at $700 and a kolinsky cape valued at $350.

The burglars entered through a rear window, after breaking a lock. Shades were pulled down and the lights switched on while they worked. Mrs. Pätz said the loss is partly covered by insurance.

W. J. Bryan at Hot Springs.

By the Associated Press.
HOT SPRINGS, Ark., April 7.—William Jennings Bryan arrived here yesterday to join Mrs. Bryan, who has been here several weeks for her health. Mrs. Bryan has shown much improvement during her sojourn.

FINANCIAL MAGICIAN MAKES FIRST APPEARANCE ON CURB

Jesse Livermore Stages Dramatic Entrance During Furore Over Mystery in Stock Rise.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Wall street stopped short in its money turnover yesterday to enjoy a thrill—the sight of Jesse Livermore, magician of finance, operating in person on the new curb market. He had always made his moves on the financial chessboard from behind the screen of anonymity—tucked away in an office, the address of which no one knew. Livermore, who has been a member of the curb since January, 1920, a short time before it abandoned its operations in the thoroughfares and took inner quarters, also is a member of the Chicago Board of Trade and several other financial market institutions. He never before has appeared personally on the Curb Exchange floor here. The market was somewhat excited today over the trading in an oil stock which started a fortnight ago around 1 1/2 and continued to climb without visible sponsorship, so that it became one of the mysteries of the street. With the excitement was at its height a stranger appeared at the curb rail and sought entrance. "Who are you?" asked the guard. "Jesse Livermore." The guard gasped and soon the crowd learned that Livermore was on the floor. They followed him to the post where this stock was being traded. At noon he had bid for 10,000 shares and ended with a net 5000 shares to his credit.

Store Savings

60 busy Regal Stores located in all the principal cities from Coast to Coast are 60 good reasons why you can now get any Style you want, in any Leather you like, for One Price, $6.80.

Volume Production and Volume Selling, shipping direct from the Regal Factory to the Regal Stores, and charging one small profit when you select the style you want, makes it fun to do business the Regal Way.

One Standard Quality and One Standard Price for every shoe in the store certainly simplifies both Selling and Saving.

When a shoe store carries three different grades at three different prices the salesman has three guesses to figure out how much you've got in your pocketbook.

If he first condescends to show you the shoe you asked to see, and then enthusiastically shows you the shoe he wants to sell—it takes him twice as long to sell the shoe you came in to buy.

This unsuccessful effort to get you to spend more than you wanted to, wastes half of your time and consumes twice as much of his time, and doubles the Selling Cost of the store.

The Regal Way.—Every Style in the Store—One Price saves your money—saves your time—and saves you from embarrassment.

Regal Salesmen don't have to "Size you up" when you come in the door,—they can devote their time studying the size of your foot instead of the size of your pocketbook.

You know when you go into a Regal Store just what you're going to pay when you go out, because three planks in the Regal Platform tell the whole story,—One Profit—One Quality and One Price,—$6.80.

—Here's Why We're Doing the Business of the Town

In less than one short month after we've opened, thousands of St. Louisans have put their stamp of approval on GoldE Clothes. They have willingly indorsed our policy, our service, our values, with their hard-earned cash, because they knew they were getting the biggest money's worth they've ever bought. They have compared GoldE Clothes for style, quality, tailoring and fit, and found them 100%. They have seen how our policy of selling direct from the maker means a big saving to them—and lastly they have bought with the confidence that if everything is not fully up to their expectation they can get their money back. So it's no wonder our store is crowded.

And that's your guide for clothes-buying this Spring! Your own judgment, backed up by thousands of others whose continued patronage we will merit on the basis of selling the finest clothing made for the least money.

3 MEN KILLED, 11 INJURED, IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Shoe Worker and Salesman Lose Their Lives and Seven Persons Are Hurt in One Crash.

Three men were killed and 11 persons were injured in automobile accidents in the city and county last night and yesterday afternoon. Two of the fatalities and seven of the injuries were the result of one accident.

The fatal crash occurred at 1244 St. Vincent avenue, a shoe worker, Charles Marty, 32, of 124 East 12th street, an automobile salesman, and Robert E. Chandler, 31, of 1244 St. Vincent avenue, a shoe worker, were killed.

Driver of One Car and Occupant of Other in Crash Lose Lives.
Marty died at the city hospital at 1:30 a. m. today from a fractured skull suffered at 10 p. m. when an automobile driven by him collided with another car at Broadway and Rindgeberger avenue. Marty, one of the occupants of the other automobile, was killed instantly.

The car driven by Marty was turning north into Broadway from Rindgeberger avenue when it was struck by a machine driven south on Broadway by Romeo Durand, 32, of 411 Kansas street, a salesman. Marty's car was knocked against a trolley pole on the east side of Broadway and Durand's car was overturned.

Durand and his companions were thrown out. Marty's skull was fractured. Leon Guiseppe, 33, of 333 West Davis street, a music teacher, suffered internal injuries, a fracture of the right leg and a broken jaw and Miss Myrtle Westbrook, 32, of 2449 Grayson avenue, was cut and bruised about the face and head. Durand escaped with a minor bruise.

Father was knocked unconscious when his automobile struck the trolley pole. His companions and their injuries were: Herman and Richard David, 33 and 31, of 1244 Broadway street, cut and bruised; Robert Lewis, 33, of 1145 Clinton place, left leg fractured; and Joseph Cornwell, 33, of 2449 St. Vincent avenue, cut on the face and head. All were taken to the city hospital.

Engineer's Body Found in Ditch in County, Also Overturned.
At 11:15 p. m. Chandler was found dead from a broken neck in a 14-foot ditch at the side of the Hall's Ferry road, near the intersection of the Jennings road, in St. Louis County. His automobile, lying upside down, was about 20 feet from his body.

Police men who investigated the accident reported that Chandler was on his way home, driving northwest along Hall's Ferry road. A telephone pole at the intersection of the two roads had been broken off near the base, and the policemen expressed the theory that Chandler, in turning into the Jennings road, had struck the telephone pole.

Chandler's body and his automobile were in the ditch on the south side of Hall's Ferry road. The front part of the automobile was smashed and the engine facing east, opposite the direction in which Chandler had been driving. The point where Chandler and the car were found is about 15 feet south-east of the broken telephone pole.

A coroner's verdict of accident was returned in the Chandler case today.

Baker Loses Eye in Collision on West Florissant Avenue.
Richard Warner, 41, 2374 North Fifteenth street, a baker, lost his left eye and his skull and nose were fractured in a collision between his automobile and one driven by Mrs. Thelma Vega, 4444 Red Bird avenue, at West Florissant and Holby avenues at 1:10 p. m.

Warner had just driven out of O'Fallon Park when Mrs. Vega's car, going northwest on West Florissant avenue, hit his automobile and turned it over. Louis Boas of Jennings road and Emmett avenue, St. Louis County, informed the police that Mrs. Vega was driving at high speed. Mrs. Vega and her companion, Mrs. Bertha Burmeister of 4415A Harris avenue, were uninjured. Mrs. Vega later furnished a bond pending investigation by the circuit attorney.

Milton Anshelm, 34, of 3413 Humphrey street, was cut and bruised on the head and legs when knocked down at Grand avenue and Wyoming street at 9 p. m. by an automobile driven by Edward Handlan of 3433 Olive street.

Telephone Operator Cut.
Miss Marie Hoffman, 31, of 1198 Hickory street, a telephone operator, was cut on the head when an automobile driven by her father, William Hoffman, collided with a meat delivery truck driven by Frank Plutch, 34, of 1414 Chouteau avenue, at Twelfth street and Russell avenue at noon.

Elmer Kuhlmann, 7, of 2442 South Thirteenth street, when playing in the street with other boys, was knocked down on Pawlson street, between Eleventh and Thirteenth streets at 4 p. m. by an automobile driven by Otto P. Wurth, 34, of 2119 Lemay avenue, a meat cutter. The boy's skull was fractured.

Miss Marie Joyce, 26, of 4341 St. Louis avenue, a stenographer, in crossing St. Louis avenue at King's highway at 1 p. m. was hit by a motor cycle ridden by Clarence Newman, 44, of 2749 Chouteau avenue, a bookkeeper. Newman, in trying to avoid the accident, was thrown from his motor cycle. Miss Joyce was cut on the left eye and injured on the abdomen. Newman's left arm was fractured.

Robbers Return Part of Fiddler's Money After Holding Him Up.
Joseph Rosenblum of 141 Balt avenue, a garden truck pedler, was stopped by two men, one with a revolver, on Monday evening, near Laurel and compelled to give to a point west of Hamilton avenue, where the men demanded his money. He handed over $27, but pleaded that he had just started a business and the loss would be a great hardship. The men compelled him to drive back to a point near where they had boarded the automobile and handed back a roll of bills. Rosenblum thought he had recovered the entire sum, but found upon counting it that the men had taken $11.

Three men obtained $692.20 at 1 p. m. in a holdup of the saloon at 181 South Vandeventer, conducted by Mrs. Jovka Bolanovich, who was at a desk counting out $583.40, which she expected to use in cash-ing checks for employees of the Swift & Co. dressed beef plant nearby. The men compelled Mrs. Bolanovich to lie on the floor with her bartender and five customers. The men searched the customers, obtaining $108.50, scooped up the money from the desk and fled, escaping in an automobile.

Two men who entered the grocery of George B. Lewyn, 3015 Parnell street, at 2:15 p. m., took $62 from a cash register and $108 from a salesman for the L. Cohen Grocery Co., escaping.

Fraud Said to Have Cost Investors in Petroleum Corporation of America $1,000,000.

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, April 7.—An alleged oil fraud said to involve the loss of $1,000,000 to investors here and possibly millions in other parts of the country, was disclosed by Federal attorneys here yesterday when they made public the names of 18 oil financiers in New York, Boston and Holyoke who have been indicted secretly by the Federal grand jury for fraudulent use of the mails.

Charles M. Ludden, an attorney, and John E. Guilcrest, an officer of the Exchange Trust Co., both of this city, and Frederick E. Hersey, president of the Motor Specialty Co. of Waltham, were arrested on the charges, which concern the activities of the Petroleum Corporation of America. All pleaded not guilty and were held in $2500 bail.

Names of Men Indicted.

The Federal authorities gave out the following additional names of those indicted: Jacob H. Mettler, H. Francis Foley, Frank W. Bernard, Chapman E. Babcock, Edward A. Clark, all of Boston; Edward H. Bushnell of Holyoke; Allyn Bell Jr., Edwin B. Cadwell, Charles R. Flint, George E. Gudebrod, Roland H. Blaisdell, Clarence D. Inman, Burr H. Clements, Raymond D. Fuller, John A. Shettle, James L. Carleton, all of New York City.

The Government alleges the Petroleum Corporation, organized under the laws of Delaware, falsely advertised that its capitalization was $50,000,000; that the Standard Oil Co. was interested in it; that it constituted the holding company for 31 oil concerns; that it had capital stock for sale and that it had properties producing 120,000 barrels of oil daily with an annual income of $50,000,000.

In 1919, the indictment alleges, Jacob Mettler and John A. Shettle of New York came to Boston, representing to Babcock and Ludden, who are said to have been interested in the Franklin company, that the Petroleum Corporation, then being organized, would take over the Franklin oil stock and issue stock in the corporation in exchange, share for share. Franklin oil stock was conveyed to the corporation in April, 1919, the indictment said, together with all properties in Colorado. Subsequently $200,000 of unsold treasury stock of the Franklin oil was sold by Frank Bernard, with the understanding that it could be exchanged for Petroleum shares.

Charge in Indictment.

"The defendants well knew," the indictment declared, "that the Franklin Oil Co. had never been taken into any merger, or its property delivered to the Petroleum Oil Corporation of America on the basis of an exchange of its stock at par for the stock of the Petroleum Corporation of America."

Frederick E. Hersey, who was arrested and arraigned, issued a brief statement declaring his innocence of the charges against him.

According to Federal officials, Jacob Mettler is at present in Texas, and H. Francis Foley, another of those indicted, is in Brooklyn, N. Y. Edward A. Clark is said to be on a vacation trip to Florida.

German Floating Debt Increases.

MRS. OBENCHAIN'S HALF SISTER UNDER ARREST

Man Held for Alleged Attempt to Influence Veniremen Said to Have Prison Record.

By the Associated Press. LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 7.—Herbert S. Hockin, under arrest here on a charge of having tried to influence veniremen in the second trial of Arthur C. Burch for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, is said by court attaches to be the same Herbert S. Hockin who, with 23 other men, was convicted at Indianapolis for conspiracy to ship explosives unlawfully on passenger trains several years ago.

Hockin served six years in the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan. Prior to 1910 he was secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Building and Structural Iron Workers, and lived in Detroit.

Hockin, a detective of a private agency employed by the District Attorney's office to investigate the venire from which the jurors to hear Burch's trial were to be selected, declined to discuss his past life. He was held, lacking $2000 needed for bail. His preliminary examination will be held April 12.

Miss Glynis Smart, half sister of Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, was arrested yesterday on a complaint charging grand larceny. Mrs. Obenchain is in jail awaiting trial on a charge of murdering J. Belton Kennedy. P. W. Douglas swore out the complaint. He declared Miss Smart took several hundred dollars from him while they were on their way to San Diego, where they planned to be married, and declined to return it. The trip to San Diego was broken off.

By the Associated Press. HOOD RIVER, Ore., April 7.—What is believed to be a landslide of considerable proportions is visible on Mount Adams in Washington across the Columbia River from here. A large cleft on the west side of the mountain, near the summit, was visible plainly and seemed to grow hourly.

Acts With Speed—Loosens the Phlegm—Stops the Irritation and Coughing Closes.

Fine for Chest Colds Too and Is Cheaply Made at Home.

When you can make in two minutes a world-beating remedy that acts directly on the membrane and often over-night causes stubborn coughs and even hard chest-colds to disappear, why trifle with things that will probably disappoint?

Hawking and snuffling and also soreness of the mucous membrane, and you will feel fine in almost no time. Just get the ounce of Parment (dramable strength), add to it a little sugar and enough hot water to make a half pint and you've got an inexpensive remedy better than you can buy ready mixed. Its soothing, healing action on the membrane is the reason so many people use it for Croup and acute nasal colds.

CITY EMPLOYE TAKEN IN NARCOTIC ARRESTS

Smoke Inspector's Appeals for Aid From Political Friends Ignored.

Emanuel Kowalsky of 1934A Franklin avenue, city smoke inspector, is charged in a Federal warrant, issued today, with transporting and possessing narcotics (gum opium), cocaine and morphine, in violation of the Harrison act.

Kowalsky was held at Police Headquarters, with Leong Choy of 714 Market street, Chinese merchant, with whom he was arrested yesterday afternoon by a Federal narcotics inspector and city detectives, and against whom a similar warrant has been issued.

At Kowalsky's request, Nat Goldstein, Circuit Clerk and member of the Republican City Committee, was notified by telephone last evening of his arrest. When Goldstein learned the nature of the charge, he is said to have replied, "You can throw the key away." He said he would do nothing to help Kowalsky.

"One of Roth's Men." Director McKelvey of the Department of Public Safety, who appointed Kowalsky four months ago to his city position, at $1500 a year, said today that Kowalsky was "one of Gabe Roth's men." Roth is committeeman for the Fifth Ward. He said Kowalsky was a former soldier. He has done office work. McKelvey said that if the charge should be established, he would dismiss Kowalsky from the department.

The arrest of Kowalsky and Leong took place in Hop Alley, in the rear of Leong's store. The inspector and detectives, who had been watching Kowalsky for some time, had obtained a search warrant authorizing them to search his automobile. When Kowalsky drove into the alley from Seventh street, with Leong in his machine, one of the detectives followed and stopped the car.

Opium Reported in Basket. The search warrant was produced and a basket said to have contained five pounds of gum opium and five ounces each of cocaine and morphine, was taken from the machine.

Kowalsky said the basket belonged to Leong, and that he knew nothing about its contents. The detectives said they learned that Kowalsky was seen yesterday morning to take a basket, similar to the one found in his car, into a garage on Chestnut street, and that Leong called there in the afternoon, before the drive to Leong's store.

The alleged opium and drugs seized have an estimated value of $700. Kowalsky's automobile was confiscated, and if the charge is established, will be sold by the government.

HOWEY FINDING IS UPHELD

Supreme Court Concurs in Dismissal of Woman's Divorce Suit.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 7.—The State Supreme Court in banc yesterday, in an opinion by Judge Graves, affirmed the judgment of the Circuit Court of Jackson County (Kansas City), dismissing the petition of Ella Howey for divorce from William Howey on the ground that a divorce decree obtained by Howey at Bartow, Fla., several years ago, was invalid.

Mrs. Howey, who declared that Howey had deserted her at Kansas City in 1913 after a married life of 14 years, also asked for judgment against the latter for $400,000. The Graves opinion, however, also held that the decision of the Circuit Court in declaring that a property settlement agreed to by the contestants soon after they ceased living together, precluded this additional recovery.

All the Judges concurred in the Graves opinion except Judge Woodson, who dissented.

About 500 Members of Organization Expected for Encampment.
By the Associated Press
SEDALIA, Mo., April 7.—Veterans of the Missouri Grand Army of the Republic will assemble May 4 for the forty-first annual encampment, says an order from the Headquarters Department in St. Louis. One hundred and seventy-four delegates from the 138 G. A. R. posts in Missouri are expected to attend the encampment, according to A. J.

P. Barnes, department commander of Joplin. In addition to the 174 delegates, other G. A. R. veterans will probably swell the attendance to 500. With the Grand Army organizations will be an equal number of even more of affiliated organizations and allied societies. The Women's Relief Corps, the official auxiliary of the G. A. R., will be represented at Sedalia, and other allied societies including the Sons of Veterans and their auxiliary, the Daughters of Veterans, and the Ladies of the Grand Army are planning to have delegates and visitors in the city.

Women's Question Box on Dress Opened and Queries Answered by Lecturer

Question ranging from how a woman with prominent neck and chest bones can hide them or best relieve their prominence by dress, to what colors various types of women should wear to bring out their various styles of beauty, were answered by Miss Evelyn D. Hansen of the Art Institute of Chicago yesterday, when she opened a question box on dress, into which women who have been attending Miss Hansen's "Better Homes" lectures, as most of them the last four days, had placed their personal queries.

"What can I wear to relieve the prominence of my neck and upper chest bones?" was one of the first questions. Miss Hansen advised that softening effects, such as lace collars, be worn, and that large chains, with pendants hanging from them, be avoided. Such chains, to go about the neck, are worn by many women to hide prominent neck and chest bones, but this is a mistake, because the chains draw attention to the points at which they span the chest, the speaker said.

Colors for Sallow Complexions.
A woman described herself as having sallow complexion, chestnut hair and eyes of greenish tint. A woman with these characteristics can create a type individual to herself by keeping away from "cold" colors, such as shades of gray and, if the woman be slender, she may wear a light tan suit or dress. If the woman were overbuilt, it would be better to wear a dark tan garment. The color of the eyes should be brought out by the facing of the hat, or by a strand of beads, both of turquoise blue. Ecru colored neckwear should be worn.

In answer to other questions, Miss Hansen said a woman prematurely gray need not worry greatly about detracting attention from her hair, if it be beautiful, as most gray hair is. If the woman with gray hair has a clear skin, she may wear clothing of the lighter colors, such as are worn by young women generally; but if her complexion be sallow, darker colors should be worn.

A brown, scrawny neck, with gray hair, can be made less prominent by wearing some soft fur neckpiece.

Tones for Older Women.
Older women should seek the soft, rich tones in clothing, which are easy to find now because the market is filled with them. They should always bear in mind that they should not dress too young. Collars of softening effects should be worn by them, rather than collars of bright colors. The texture of clothing worn by older women has more to do with their appearance than color.

The outer wrap should be kept on when buying a hat; if the wrap is going to be worn much with the hat, in either event, however, it is better to try the hat both with and without the outer wrap.

The servantless housewife should wear a white house dress, since it can be washed often and carries with it an air of freshness and cleanliness.

Always Personal Interviews.
In addition to the questions written out and placed in the box, Miss Hansen, after each of her lectures has held a sort of reception backstage, where she was fairly besieged by women who wished to know how they could make better appearances. Several were women who have come to the city recently from rural districts, and among their more brightly colored and costly costumes, many felt themselves to be at a disadvantage. Some of these, particularly, have presented Miss Hansen with fairly perplexing problems.

One, who wore a round-topped sailor hat, much too small for her, which was pinned tightly to the hair at the very top of her head, was plainly perturbed over the figure she cut. A light blue dress was worn by the woman, and running around it were broad stripes into which lavender-colored figures had been worked. Miss Hansen devoted several moments to telling the woman she should avoid the high-set hat, the light color of her dress and the stripes running around it, all of which went to make the woman appear round and fat. The woman was fairly stout and Miss Hansen pointed out to her she would do much better to wear dark colors and never to wear stripes running around her clothing like the hoops on a barrel.

Lecturer Tells How Man With $1000 May Build $6000 Home.
Rose Crane, also of the Institute, who has been giving lectures at the Odessa on interior decoration and home planning in the concluding lecture last night, told how a family with moderate income, which has $1000 to $1500 in bank, may build its own home for $6000 and have place that will compare favorably with much more pretentious places that have cost larger sums.

"The usual way of computing the rental of a house is to take 13 per cent of the cost construction, and charge this sum for the yearly rental," Crane said. "Suppose the house cost $6500. This means the owner will receive $845 a year for it or about $71 a month. This gives him 5 per cent with which to pay taxes and cost of maintenance and 3 per cent profit."

"On this basis, the prospective home owner can take his $1000, borrow the remainder of the necessary $5000 to build his own home, and after paying interest on the borrowed money and taxes, still have had the house during the year at about $400 less than if he had been renting. This sum can be used to help pay off the debt. If you don't believe it, it is cheaper to own your own home than it is to pay rent. Just figure out some time how much rent you have paid and how many homes you have bought, which you have never gotten."

Type of House to Be Built.
The type of house chosen for the demonstration was one of four rooms of Spanish style of architecture. This style goes very well in St. Louis, Crane remarked. The plans called for a two-story house, which Crane explained is cheaper to maintain and build than a bungalow. Downstairs were a combined kitchen and dining alcove, a vestibule and large living room. A refrigerator abutted the kitchen, extending several feet to the rear of the house as a sort of wing, and on the other side of the house, was a Postoffice Robber, 15, Is Sentenced.

By the Associated Press.
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 7.—William Henderson, Womble, Ark., 15 years old, pleaded guilty in United States district court of robbing the mails, and was sentenced yesterday to two years in the reform school at Booneville, Mo. The boy broke into the postoffice at Womble and stole about $100 in cash and two wrist watches. He refused to say what he did with the money, but it was ascertained that he gave one of the watches to a sweetheart.

MOTION FOR COURT CHANGE IN INSURANCE SUIT HEARD

Plea for Removal of Case to Federal Court Taken Under Advice.

Arguments were made yesterday before Circuit Judge Taylor on a motion filed by the New York Life Insurance Co. to remove to the Federal Court one of two suits on insurance policies carried by the late William P. Hawkins. The suit which the company seeks to remove was filed by Hawkins' widow, Mrs. Charlotte L. Hawkins, 5349 Pershing avenue, for $5000. The company asserted that the case should have been filed in the Federal Court because the plaintiff lives here, while the company has its headquarters in New York. W. Scott Hancock, attorney for the plaintiff, opposed the plea. The motion was taken under advisement.

The other suit is by Hawkins' sister, Mrs. Stella Hansen of River Falls, Wis., for $10,000 on a policy in which she is named as beneficiary. There is said to be no dispute over her right to sue in the State court. Hawkins, who was president of the Western Coal and Mining Co., died last November. The insurance company, it is alleged, has withheld payment on the policies and demanded additional proof of death, which was furnished. Refusal to pay is said to have been due to a dispute as to the actual cause of Hawkins' death, but the company has not filed any answer reciting its reason. Attorney Hancock said that Hawkins died from throat trouble. Other than the insurance, he left an estate valued at $70,000.

VAN BLARCOM ORDERS FEES OF HIS ALIENISTS TO BE PAID

Claims Amounting to $950 Presented by Experts Who Testified in Sanity Hearings.

Frederick Van Blarcom, who last Wednesday married Miss Maxine Browning, 23 years old, 3123 Olive street, has ordered the St. Louis Union Trust Co. to pay $950 in claims of alienists who testified in his behalf during proceedings to have himself declared of sound mind. The alienists' claims were ruled for hearing in Federal court yesterday but were passed, when attorneys said they would be settled out of court.

The claims of the alienists are as follows: Dr. Marc Ray Hughes, $200 for six examinations and two appearances at court to testify; Dr. Theodore H. Romeiser, $400 for investigations and examinations; and Dr. M. W. Hoge, $350 for two examinations. A suit filed yesterday against Van Blarcom and the trust company by Dr. Robert E. Keane to collect $300, his fee for examining Van Blarcom and testifying for him, will be dismissed, Dr. Keane said today, because the trust company has paid him. The petition set forth that Dr. Keane's services were worth $1000, but that his bill was cut in half because of the number of bills against Van Blarcom.

WOMEN'S QUESTION BOX ON DRESS OPENED AND QUERIES ARE ANSWERED

Similar place for coal. From the vestibule a flight of steps led upstairs, where plans called for two bedrooms, one 13 by 14 feet, with two large closets and a fireplace and a hall and bathroom. Crane explained the house met the six required points of construction and beauty; that the house snuggled down close to the ground; that a roof be ample and really cover the place; that windows be grouped properly; that the porch add dignity to the house; that the chimney add to rather than detract from the appearance; and that the entrance be of giving an air of hospitality.

Planting Effects.
The house was planned for a lot about 50 by 130 feet and F. A. Cushing Smith, landscape architect and town planner of the institute, in an address Tuesday afternoon, told how such a lot can be designed and planted, so as to show off the house best and enhance its outside air. Smith in his demonstration used a miniature representation of the lot on which small models of the house and its outdoor adjuncts were used.

Leading from the door of the living room was a path to a flower garden, termed by Smith an "outdoor living room." In the garden flowers were to grow in profusion and a small pedestal with a crystal ball stood in the center. The garden was to be partially surrounded by a hedge about three feet high, to give it an air of privacy. Farther back, at the street line, representation of trees and shrubbery were placed, with a stretch of green lawn intervening. To the rear was a small drying yard, minus the props for clotheslines and things that usually go with such a place. Smith pointed out that these are unnecessary, because a clothes reel may be used to dry the family wash and, after it has served its purpose, it may be put away in the basement. Only one day a week, then, is the drying yard given the appearance of such a place, the remainder of the time being part of the lawn.

Garage at Rear of Lot.
At the rear end of the lot the garage was placed with a T turn at the entrance. On such a turn, one may drive into the garage directly and when one drives out the machine is merely backed into the rear portion of the Y. This abolishes backing and turning a machine to get in and out, as is necessary on a straightaway drive. Smith cautioned against planting the garden in such a place as to interfere with the natural beauty of the landscape that might be near the home. Lantern slides to illustrate this and other points he made, were shown. Most of the lantern slides, however, were views of gardens and homes more elaborate than were shown. Most of the lantern slides, however, were views of gardens and homes more elaborate than were shown. ## INCREASES IN EMPLOYMENT

Fast Month Witnessed Decrease in Number of Jobs.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Increased employment ranging up to 28 per cent over the preceding month has been reported to the employment service of the Department of Labor from 43 of 65 representative cities for the month ending March 31. The automotive and allied industries, iron and steel, and their products, and lumber headed the trades showing improved activity. The net increase for the country, figured on reports from 1438 firms, was 2.3 per cent.

Many of the 23 cities reporting decreases were in the New England States, their reports reflecting the results of the textile strikes now in progress. Leather, chemicals and food products also employed fewer workers in March than in February. Denver led the reporting cities with an increase in employment in March of 25.2 per cent, Memphis being second with 18.1 and Seattle third with 11.8 per cent. Paterson, N. J., reported a decrease of 17.2 per cent. Manchester, N. H., 14.9, and Lowell, Mass., 11.7.

HOME WITH CAR TO RIDE IN OFFERED TO ROSE COGHLAN

California Couple Who Have Never Seen Her on Stage Send Message to Actress.

By the Associated Press.
ALAMEDA, Cal., April 7.—Rose Coghlan, comedy star of two decades ago, who feared that "nobody in the world wants me" because of the tragic role of penury that fate recently has cast for her, may know now that there is a home for her. This was the message that Mrs. Tom Dolphin gave to the Associated Press to send to the actress.

"Please tell Miss Coghlan that she is wanted right here," said Mrs. Dolphin. "There is a big home here to which she is welcome, and a car we'd like to take her riding in."

Mrs. Dolphin's husband, manager of an automobile repair agency, concurred in his wife's request.

Neither Mrs. Dolphin nor her husband ever saw Miss Coghlan on the stage.

'OVEN MEAL' SUGGESTED FOR MAIDLESS HOME

"We Overfed Our Guests," Says Food Lecturer Discussing Handling of "Company."

"Serving a Company Dinner Without a Maid" was explained to 300 women at the National Food Show at the Coliseum yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Ida Bailey Allen, specialist in domestic science.

"We overfed our guests, and overfed guests can't be comfortable," said Mrs. Allen. "Nor can housewives, either, after going through a rushing, hectic afternoon of preparation. A simple meal, sensibly planned, is the solution."

"If you are caught without a maid or do not employ one, the best way to care for dinner company is through an 'oven meal'—a meal in which nearly everything served is baked at one time in the oven."

Such a Meal Outlined.
Mrs. Allen then outlined such a meal, beginning with a fruit cocktail, advancing to a tomato bouillon or other easily prepared soup, and for the meats, suggesting chicken Maryland, ham baked in milk or baked fish. Potatoes, or any other vegetable used, should be cooked in the oven, a simple lettuce salad prepared at the table and an easily made dessert, such as custard or floating island, served with the coffee.

"Do all your marketing the day before," the dietitian continued. "Attempt no housecleaning the day of the dinner; set your table before the guests arrive. Let the oven be your cook, and you'll need no maid when serving time comes."

Tells How to Feed Boy.
"Feeding Phil Up," a lecture in which she explained the balanced ration needed for a growing boy, was made last night by Mrs. Allen. This afternoon she is guest of honor at a public reception held at the Coliseum by the League of Women Voters at which she makes her final address. "Cooking in Your Church."

The food show, which has been well attended each afternoon and crowded each evening, closes at 11 tomorrow night. A feature for this evening will be a wedding in the bandstand at 9 o'clock. Four couples have applied for the privilege, but the names of the brides and bridegrooms will not be announced until after the ceremony. A wedding cake and enough meats and groceries to stock a well-stocked kitchen will be gifts from the local and national firms exhibiting at the food show.

COMMITTEE POST COUNTY OFFICE
SUPREME COURT RULES

Decision May Raise Doubts As to Right to Hold Both Elective and Appointive Jobs.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, April 7.—The State Supreme Court yesterday, in prohibiting production of the ballots in the trial of the quo warranto suit of Robert D. Claxton against I. Joel Wilson, to oust Wilson as member of the Republican City Committee held that members of political committees in St. Louis, to all practical purposes, are county officers, and are entitled to bring election contests where doubt as to election exists.

This means that in future political machinery in St. Louis will have to be more careful in the manner in which they try to perpetuate control of the city committees. For in contested election cases the ballots can be used in evidence. Heretofore no way had been found legally to examine the ballots cast for committee-men, who are elected at the biennial primaries and the courts steadfastly have barred the opening of primary ballot boxes.

This decision also may raise some doubt as to the standing of numerous members of the Republican City Committee of St. Louis, who hold jobs both elective and appointive which might be classed as "county offices."

The opinion in this case was written by Judge Walker, Democrat, with Judges Woodson and Graves and Chief Justice James T. Blair, also Democrats, concurring. Judges Elder and David E. Blair, Republicans, concurred in the result. Judge Higbee, Republican, dissented.

'CHRISTIANITY AND GOLF MEAN LONG LIFE,' SAYS ROCKEFELLER

Oil Magnate at Florida Resort, Hoping to Live 100 Years, Advises: "Don't Worry."

ORMOND BEACH, Fla., April 7.—John D. Rockefeller hopes to live 100 years.

"The world is so full of interest, a man must live a long life to get it all," he says.

Here's the Rockefeller formula for living to a ripe old age: "Don't worry, eat simply and moderately, live a Christian life and play golf."

The Standard Oil magnate is watching the career of Henry Ford. Mention of the automobile maker arouses his deep interest.

"Always keep plenty of money on hand," is the advice the oil financier once said to have sent to Ford. They have never met.

Ormond is on neighborly terms with John D. Rockefeller, pleasant old gentleman who works about his garden in his shirt sleeves like Grandpa Smith. The multi-millionaire chats with bellboys, the groceryman and the butcher.

"Plain as an old shoe—a nice old man," say the Ormond folk.

The hotel orchestra Sunday night played the "Doxology," and all rose and sang. Then it was discovered that Rockefeller has a pleasing baritone voice. The oil king sang the words in clear, strong tones. John D. III, the son of John D. Rockefeller Jr., who was with him, had to find the words on the program. Grandfather Rockefeller knew them by heart.

ANGELICANS IN CANADA TO USE NEW PRAYER BOOK EASTER

Committee Has Been Revising Book for Seven Years; Services to Be Shorter.

By the Associated Press.
MONTREAL, Quebec, April 7.—Anglican churches in Canada will use a new prayer book Easter Sunday, taking the place of one compiled in the reign of James I of England. A committee of the Anglican Church in Canada has been at work seven years revising the prayer book.

The new volume, according to Bishop Farthing of Montreal, is free of "obsolete and archaic words and references, adapts the services to the changed conditions of the age and enriches the prayer book by additions to suit the temper of today." One effect of the changes, according to churchmen, is that services may now be shorter. The marriage service remains substantially unchanged. The women still promise to obey.

AMERICAN MOTORISTS FIRED ON

Russell Reed and Party on Way From Jerusalem to Jericho Road.

Irish Republican Leader declares He Would Take Consequences
Breaking Negotiations

"PEOPLE AGAINST BRITISH CONNECTION"

Secessors From Army to Sunday and Declared Dissolution of All tended Governments.

Special Cable to the Post-D and New York World.

Copyright, 1934, by the Press and Publishing Co., Inc. New York and the Post-Dispatch.

DUBLIN, April 7.—Eamon Valera, speaking at Kingsway night, declared he would take the consequences of the negotiations than of accuse the Free State treaty. "The papers have talked about M. politics," he said. "But you have that sort of thing always because the hearts of the people are always against British oppression."

If the people did not want to continue let them remove the roots in establishing a government on the basis of the Eireann carrying out its obligation. "The illegal action" of setting provisional government as the Irish government, if persisted would not be obeyed. "I say it," he emphasized, "that the movement will not function."

No advance toward peace was made throughout the day.
speech, which was altogether compromising in character.
The Irish republican army position is to remain in the Sunday when the executive, for a fortnight ago, will report recommendations to the executive for consideration, including the declaration of a dictatorship dissolution of all "pretended governments" in Ireland opposed to the republic. The members of the executive repudiated the Daily Irish, whom they charged with betraying the republic as well as free state provisional government.
The executive is instructed to a considered opinion on these points at Sunday's convention.

The provisional government slowly and carefully recruiting army. The official recruiting partments are taking steps to that the ranks will not be permanently depleted, with the purpose of creating internal disaffection.
expected that in a few weeks free state army's strength will be about 15,000.

Boycott Rigorously Enforced
The boycott of Northern Irish is being rigidly enforced South, all trains being examined at the border. When Northern goods are discovered they are destroyed. Irish men acting the boycott director, have visited and firms owing money to the companies and compelled them hand over some thousands of pounds in completely signed checks.

"Decline of Piety."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
YOUR editorial, "The Decline of Piety," in the Post-Dispatch of Sunday, April 2, discusses the question of the various phases of our national endeavor. The question involves the efficacy of the dominant religions of our new democracy. The broad-minded leaders of the various sects of which our dominant religion is composed frankly admit a lowered standard of morals; the greater intelligence of the secular leaders expresses great alarm, while not a few as freely admit the moral standard or the ethic of our national civilization is wholly engulfed by evil or indifference to that which the great intelligence of all ages and nations declares to be the basic in all organized government.

This article quotes the Yearbook of the churches for 1920, giving the total number of persons in the United States belonging to some church at 43,500,000, of which 17,500,000 are Roman Catholic and 26,000,000 are members of the various Protestant denominations. After some 600 or 700 years just a few more than one-third of the people are identified with some religious organization. Under conceivably the most equitable circumstances and environment the dominant religious faiths are not covering the ethic found adequately. The present widespread evil in every conceivable form supports this contention.

Thus a more effective organization of the ethic or religious elements is imperative. If our ethic and economic forces were without a sustaining vitality or had become senile, utter collapse would be imminent. As deplorable as the ethic situation is, there is yet a vital sustaining force, but a weeding out of that which has become useless is imperative. We cannot shut our eyes to the practical benefits which derive from new ideas and methods in other phases of our national endeavor. Our national ethic must keep the pace and perform efficiently in its own sphere or fall by the wayside.

When a man is sick we get a doctor; when a business fails to pay dividends it is reorganized along more modern principles of economic management or liquidated. The ethic of our young democracy is sick. The peoples of the great masses for years have felt the need of a better morale in the neighborhood. The knowledge is growing that this may best be accomplished by the neighborhood as a unit and a united drive for higher and universal education in music and the arts combined with their neighbors. This is observed in the greater use of the neighborhood school and which must have every encouragement by the civic officers.

A Food Show Visitor.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I LIVE in a country town near St. Louis, and had the pleasure of visiting your food show. Am writing this letter because by doing so I may encourage others. All the booths I visited were beautiful, and I hope that all good housewives will visit the booth which, I believe, is at the entrance. It is in charge of a lady who told me my faults in cooking and baking.

MRS. L. A. FORD.

How to Judge Reed.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
YOUR editorial on Absenteeism is worthy of the sober consideration of every true and loyal American. For it is true, as you say, Senator Reed must be judged, not by his incidental service in the Kansas City campaign, but by his service in the Senate. Now, Mr. Editor, don't you think he has rendered a greater service to his country while out of the Senate than he has while in the Senate? He was one of Lodge's main props upon which the Republicans built their political machine, and soared in the Republican limelight when he denounced those grand and sacred principles of Woodrow Wilson, who laid the foundation upon which was to be erected a structure in commemoration of the brave and heroic men and women who gave their lives to perpetuate peace throughout the world.

Liquor at Mt. Olive.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I HAVE read a letter in the Post-Dispatch from a salesman about prohibition in Marion, Ill. There is no liquor drunk or sold there, he said. They may have told him the truth, but I think they have misinformed him. Please tell me to say it is different in Mt. Olive where some of the men come home drunk several times a week. I hope the time will come when everybody making liquor will be punished.

Mt. Olive, Ill.

Wasn't Questioned.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
PLEASE allow me to state some facts about the bond election. I read in your paper March 29 about the overwhelming vote in favor of the 85-cent school rate, and that none but taxpayers could cast ballots. This was incorrect. Were voters required to produce tax receipts? Were they asked if they were taxpayers? There were only two men at the polls where I voted. I didn't know either of them, and they didn't ask if I was a taxpayer. Was not that the case everywhere?

TAXPAYER.

THE COAL BOURBONS.

The refusal of the coal operators to accept the invitation of a congressional committee to attend a wage conference with officers of the miners' union admits of only one construction: the operators prefer war to arbitration; they would settle the issue by a strike rather than effect an agreement through the enlightened process of discussion.

The operators, it is presumed, have taken this position because they believe they can win the strike for which they are, reputedly, well prepared. Such a victory, however, would not establish the wisdom of this policy. Regardless of the outcome of the present strike, discussion is the one rational medium for adjusting differences. Moreover, the party to a quarrel that declines to arbitrate at once prejudices its case with the people.

No industry—no captains of industry, however powerful—can afford to flout public sentiment. The intransigence of the coal operators belongs to a day that is gone. The grand old story of Reading is dead and the divine right of coal magnates is buried in his grave. The nations of the world, after a blood atonement, are trying to substitute the conference room for the camp, reason for brute force. Can industry be permitted to employ the discredited, barbarous methods which Governments have pronounced obsolete?

The coal operators should discard their bourbonism. They should catch up with the calendar.

LAWS WITH TUSKS.

The bill just passed by the House to deport alien violators of the Volstead law is another instance of the weak temporizing practiced by the prohibitionists. The country will never be made dry by such timid Fabianism. If prohibition is to be a condition, not a theory, we must have laws with tusks in them. Deportation is well-meaning, but mistaken, clemency. It will not do. Volstead violation must be made a capital crime. And before such law alien and citizen must stand on terms of grim equality. Volstead violators, foreign or native, must be hanged, drawn, quartered, cremated and thrown to the lions. Fines, imprisonment, banishment—it is all piffle. Prohibitionists must be made of sterner stuff. They must reveal the fiber that can slip the noose, apply the torch or turn the switch—if we are to have prohibition.

THE PROPOSED "ALIEN" JUDGES.

In a recent debate in the Senate on the bill proposing to create 19 new United States District Judges, in the hope of keeping up with the manufacture of criminals by the Volstead act, Senator Caraway revealed that he was approached by "the $25,000-a-year representative of a powerful influence" and urged to support a certain pre provision in the bill.

This provision is section 2, which would permit the Chief Justice to shift Circuit and District Judges about whenever he felt it necessary or desirable. A District Judge appointed for Maine, for example, could be sent to California. It was the purpose of the "powerful influence," said Senator Caraway, to hold the constant threat over all Federal Judges that "if you do not enforce the law according to our ideas, we will put someone else there who will."

Senators Caraway, Broussard and others are opposing this clause mainly on the ground that it is un-American and contrary to our traditions to be subjected to "alien" Judges; that the right of trial by a jury of the vicinage includes as well a trial before a Judge having some contact with the community in which he serves; that to send in Judges from distant parts smacks of Jeffersonism.

There is much to be said in support of this view, particularly when it is remembered that some of the old safeguards of the accused in criminal trials, once existing in the Federal courts and still existing in our State courts, have been broken down by the Federal judiciary. A Federal Judge, for example, although in theory being solely judge of the law, may nevertheless question the veracity of every witness for the accused and he may express his opinion freely on the weight of testimony; he may even tell the jury that he thinks the accused guilty if he follows that statement up with "But, of course, gentlemen, you are the sole judges of the weight of the testimony." Such practices in the State courts would vitiate the trial for error, but the Federal courts can and do thus influence juries and get away with it.

The problem of overcrowded dockets may be very easily solved, not by the creation of a multitude of new Judges or by shifting them about, but by the simple expedient of putting an end to the congressional manufacture of new crimes out of innocent acts.

MORE OFFICIAL LAWLESSNESS.

The point in the police raid on the home of William Buchanan at 5015 Vernon avenue—the latest police outrage—and the arrest of Mr. Buchanan and six friends who were playing cards is that the raid was made without a warrant.

The raid was made on an anonymous tip and without any further evidence the police entered the home and arrested the occupants. They violated the legal rights of the home owner and his friends. The prisoners were released, as were the prisoners in the raid on the Schwind home Monday night when a reputable citizen, his wife and their friends, men and women, were taken to the calaboose and confined all night.

In invading homes without warrants on reasonable evidence of the commission of a crime, the police are guilty of the worst kind of lawlessness. They trample on the rights of citizens and bring law and law enforcement authorities into contempt and public hostility. The higher-ups responsible for outrages of this kind should be punished to the limit of the law. It would be unjust to ask the punishment of the policemen because they are directed or influenced by the policy of their superiors.

The final responsibility rests with Gov. Hyde, who keeps lawless and unscrupulous officials in power for his own political purposes. The Governor upholds official lawlessness.

To the words of Associate Prosecuting Attorney Connor, who told the Schwind raiders that the raid was lucky not to be met with a shotgun, we add the mild, quoted rebuke of Judge Mix: "It is an outrage that police invade private homes and make these raids. They would do better to get out and arrest some of these criminals—bank robbers, for instance."

Anyhow, Gov. Hyde keeps his word. Back in 1912 he promised to bury the Republican party, and he is doing it.

RELEASE WAR PRISONERS.

President Harding would do well to anticipate the march to Washington of the children of war-time prisoners to ask for the release of their fathers, which Kate O'Hare is organizing.

Mr. Harding pardoned Debs and several others as a Christmas gift. Debs was the most conspicuous offender and why should he be released and not all others guilty of similar offenses? Freedom has been granted to quite a number of offenders under the espionage act. Why not all—who are not guilty of violent crime? The espionage act has been repealed. It was enforced with harsh severity as a war act to protect the country during the war crisis. The war is over and the act is no longer operative.

America ought not to have the unenviable distinction of a democracy where free speech is an unpardonable offense.

Judge Mix doesn't believe an anonymous letter a sufficient reason for raiding a family game. But the police requirement is not a reason; it is an excuse.

TWO CAREERS.

The sun of a great actress has set. Rose Coghlan, nearly a half-century ago, was the idol of Broadway. Perhaps, had she been born at a later date, she might have pressed Mary Pickford for that title of supreme endearment, "the sweetheart of the world." Now she is a broken old woman of threescore and eleven. But she has remained to the last an actress. It was the realization that her memory had so faded her that she could no longer carry a part which caused her collapse and revealed the necessity of selling the gowns she had worn in her famous roles.

"They ask me where my money has gone," says Miss Coghlan, and answers: "Into new costumes every three weeks or so for the old stock company at Wallack's." "Ah," she adds, "the world won't see a stock company like old Wallack's again!"

Miss Coghlan's gloomy prophecy might be depressing were it not balanced off simultaneously, from another quarter, by a gush of optimism. If, instead of charming theater patrons and buying gowns for old Wallack's, she had saved her pennies and invested them with ever so much discretion, as did John D. Rockefeller, she might, 12 years hence, still be playing golf and, as did Mr. Rockefeller the other day from his pinnacle of years and affluence, be advising the world to "work hard and look forward."

But Mr. Rockefeller and his kind have spoken many times on how to live long and be dull. It is for Rose Coghlan and her kind to disclose the magic formula of how to live brilliantly and be charming.

Britain acknowledges the validity of our reparations claims, but without the cash it doesn't mean anything.

PUTTING THE MUSCLE IN MUSCLE SHOALS.

JUST A MINUTE

By Clark McDann
Written for the POST-DISPATCH

IF most of us do not care how many Federal laws we have as a matter of protection against centrifugal tyranny, perhaps more of us can be aroused by appeals to local pride. (We are not sure what we can make of this, but keep on reading and try to share our own confidence in the outcome. It is not fair that the whole burden of uncertainty should be thrown upon the writer. The reader does less work and is less injured if the thing is pointless.)

The average American town has a perfectly respectable jail. How respectable it is we clearly established on yesterday, when we read what a Missouri Mayor did in answer to a charge that he was letting the jail run down. More Federal laws mean more Federal Judges, and more Federal Judges mean more Federal prisoners.

Federal prisoners chiefly go to little jails. The Government has no jails. It has penitentiaries for grave crimes against the nation. Like the exercise of free speech. It has no little jails for minor offenses against Puritanism like drinking beer or eating corned beef and cabbage.

Very well. That brings us hereabouts to the little city of St. Charles. Beautiful place. Nobody in the jail since goodness knows when. View unsurpassed. Hills of amazing quiet and charm. That untamed and untamable thing, the Missouri River, defying the Puritans to put it in a straight-jacket as they are putting us.

Every day or so someone not completely embracing our rapidly changing scheme of government is given a jail sentence in the Federal Court. Where does he go? To St. Charles. In a little while the erstwhile peaceful little jail of St. Charles once a symbol of our thorough law-abiding, will bulge with wild-eyed men shouting anathema upon the land of the free and the home of the brave.

What kind of a place will St. Charles be then? How will she differ from Australia as a penal colony? Wouldn't people in all small cities better think of that?

STRAY THOUGHTS.

Now come the days when we discover that the week has six too many.
Where there is a "will" there is a way, and the lawyer always will find it.
That man with 13 wives got two years for bigamy. It does seem inadequate but the jury probably took into account time already spent with the wives.

Barbers in New York are going to charge $1 for a haircut. That's enough to make a Bolshevik out of anybody.

Only one automobile accident was recorded in yesterday's papers; accidents will happen. Now that movie stars also are getting a cut in wages, we will not be the only ones who have to make both ends meet on three thousand a week.

In Vienna, we hear, money fluctuates in value so rapidly that a housewife has to consider in the morning whether she will pay the bills in the forenoon or in the afternoon.

It would seem that there was another way out of this dilemma—but then even there such things as bill collectors may not be unknown.

DOING THE ENEMY A GOOD TURN.

(Sikeston, Mo., Standard.)

In the report of the mass meeting held at the City Hall last Tuesday evening, the Herald failed to note that J. B. Randol was present. This was undoubtedly an oversight which the Herald cannot correct before the election, as the Standard takes the liberty of making the correction.

Mrs. Asquith had no farewell message upon sailing for home, but money talks and she had it. She became a 100 per cent American in a hurry.

REAL NEWS FROM THE YACKVILLE WEEKLY.

Several remarks have been made by prominent Yackvillians to the effect that the musical standard of the Yackville Brass Band has greatly depreciated, and is not what it used to be. The band practices twice a week over at Lem Hancock's hall. Miss Katinka Hokus, the town's leading musical critic, made a personal investigation and found that instead of practicing, the members of the band shot craps most of the time. As usual, Constable Abe Whoofie is asleep on the job.

There was considerable excitement over at Josiah Scraggins' house last night. Josiah spilled gravy all over his wife's new tablecloth. What followed isn't fit to be seen in print. Neighbors declared it was the worst scrap the Scraggins had for a long time.

We hear that Miss Mchitable Marlar Hawkbeak, our distinguished poetess, is hard put to it, trying to find a suitable word to rhyme with "eggs." We do not presume to be experts at the fine art of rhyming, but we do say that "ham" would sound very well with "eggs."

Grandpa Wojack says: "Some women have a lot to talk about. Others haven't, but do, nevertheless."

It takes a great deal of adversity to dampen Bill Hokus' sense of humor, but he recently did admit that he felt very much put out the night old man Jones, with whose daughter Bill has been keeping company lately, threw him out of the house for putting red pepper in his corncob pipe.

THEO. H. TRILSEY.

Lines on a calendar:
Success comes in cans, failure in can't's.

BVD-28: I was interested by what you said about too many twos. It seemed to me that what must have happened was this: The sign painter was under the impression that the sign was to be put up at Aurora, Mo. Therein is repeated three times in letters three inches high a sign which goes thus:

No Smoking
He was sure of it, wasn't he?

IN WHICH WE GET OURS AGAIN.

Editor Just a Minute: Do you remember the beautiful lines that I sent you, entitled "Our Fair and Free Press," which you printed with such evident appreciation? Behold your reward in the Kansas City election, where the candidate unanimously opposed by the press was overwhelmingly elected! How the peaky voters did not follow the advice of the high-brow editors, who did their best to hide the truth from them by suppressing, garbling and distorting the news and facts, and by misquoting and belying individuals! What a glorious example of the boasted "liberty of the press and freedom of speech!" According to a newspaper clipping, the Democratic Post supported the Republican candidate, Foster, while the three Republican papers "scarcely noticed the Democratic campaign in their news columns," so "an uninformed reader would get the idea that Foster is the only candidate."

The voters evidently did their own fact-finding and thinking.
A stanza that I sent you is now more apropos than ever:

The press, with its supreme self-conceit,
Thinks its editors' views have great weight;
But it learns, when it often gets beat
At what value they really rate.

ARBOR DAY.

From the Nashville Tennessean.

WE are reminded that 1922 marks the fifty anniversary of the celebration of "Arbor Day" in the United States. Nebraska was the first State to recognize the day. In 1872, J. Sterling Morton, a member of the Nebraska State Board of Agriculture, offered a resolution setting aside April 10 as "tree planting day."

There was some controversy over the name. Mr. Morton's resolution prevailed. The following year the celebration was repeated, and the State Legislature made the day a legal holiday. The records of the State of Nebraska show that in the first 16 years of the observance the day there were in excess of 350,000,000 of vines planted in the State. Arbor day was celebrated in Tennessee on Friday, April 7, 1922. The day, its observance in 1872, and the first in this State. In the same year, the State of Kansas observed the day, and from that time on other States followed until now Arbor day is observed generally throughout the Western Hemisphere, but on varying dates. The day is observed in the schools, and there the children are taught the value of the living tree and its care. The study of this subject is of great importance. It will not be many years before the forests of this country are denuded and reforestation is undertaken on a gigantic scale. Years ago it was customary to plant trees every opportunity as memorials. This custom is coming into vogue again, especially active in the cause being posts of the American Legion, who are engaged in planting trees in memory of their fallen comrades.

GROVER CLEVELAND'S WAY.

From the Ohio State Journal (Columbus).

A PROMINENT physician of this city showed us the other day a letter which President Cleveland wrote him Feb. 7, 1894, asking for his opinion "as a good physician and an honest man," as to the merits of a determined effort being made by men influential in politics to secure a pardon for a bank wrecker serving a term in the Ohio penitentiary. Representations had been made to Mr. Cleveland that this prisoner, who had embezzled a large sum from a national bank, was in such a state of health that, if he were to serve out his six-year term, he would die in the penitentiary. What Mr. Cleveland wished to know was whether or not, in the view of a reliable and disinterested physician, and in the view of the public, the appeal was based on the truth. The physician examined the prisoner, decided that he was not in danger of dying in prison if he completed the serving of his sentence, so reported to the President, and the man was not pardoned. He did not die until long after the expiration of his term. The letter covers four pages in Cleveland's cramped handwriting. It illustrates to what pains that noble old public servant went to go in the effort to find out the plain truth before acting in a case urged upon him, how weight he gave to interested politicians' pleas in reaching his decisions even on comparatively trifling matters. He was the first, perhaps the only President who examined carefully every pension bill brought to him for his signature. He investigated the claims made and fearlessly decided each case on its merits as he saw them. Truly believed that public office is a public trust and acted accordingly. What a sturdy old man he was!

SPRING INVITES YOU TO THE CITY'S PARKS

Grass Unusually Vivid and All Verdure Uncommonly Fresh and Intense.

The color of the grass in Forest Park never within the memory of the gardeners has been so vivid as now.

Spring this year has been no heading madcap, dashing out her vitality among the snows, but has come down an even road, a very vigorous and very beautiful maiden. The season has been notably free from devastating alternations of sun, heat and frost, flood and drought. Consequently all the verdure in the park is uncommonly fresh, animated, intense. Shrubs have unfolded their blossoms without fear of betrayal. Maples already have shed their blossoms and are budding again. The poplar's catkins dangle in the breeze. Wild flowers are unfolding. The bumble bee, fat and slothful, is prospecting. Only the oak stands black against the sky, with the knowledge that never will they be able to match such color.

Touch of Kentucky Blue.

The greenest of all green things is the grass—radiant, light green, with a touch of Kentucky blue, which nature expends so prodigally only when days are not overheated. It stretches away unbroken except where smudgy lagoon waters define the eye. Art Hill is without a blemish, but the greatest intensification of color is the terrace of the formal garden beneath the world's fair shell.

From afar the terrace is a rectangle so vivid that it seems that nature has been retouched unnaturally. Under heel, it has a depth of a rug so rare that to tread it seems sacrilege. In fact, the green of the tulip beds to drab. An excellent view of the terrace may be had from the intersection of Grand drive with East Art Hill drive.

Set upon this expanse of green are clumps of golden bells, signaling the eye to vistas that will be screened off by the heavy foliage of later summer. The luster of these yellow bushes (for they are), is that of the sun. The bushes have been placed at the approach to bridges, on the banks of the lagoons, at the corners of buildings, but wherever the eye encounters them they frame some vista stretching as far as a half mile. The forsythia is literally a mass of yellow. Its slender, willowy shoots are studded with golden blossoms at every leaf joint from the point at which they emerge from the ground to their graceful tips. The shrubs are rapidly approaching their zenith after which they will leaf and fade from dominance into the engulfing green of the landscape.

Firebush Also at Full.

The Japanese quince (firebush), also is at its full. Its apple-blossom red flowers are every bit as striking as the golden bells, but have not the same range and must be seen in the sun. The quince is in full bloom, tries, too, to vie with the yellow bells, but its white flowers, though dainty, must yield. And other bushes having nothing but green to offer, are in the background of the flowering varieties.

Violet hill is ready for visitors. This patch of the park each spring rewards the hunter with nosegays of tiny flowers. The violets are blooming now and can be found from a point just back of the Laclede pavilion along the River Des Peres to the Triple A golf course. Clatonia Virginia (spring) another native flower may be looked at, but not carried away. It pines away instantly if taken from its nesting place in the grass. It pokes a three-leaved spike just above the grass level and is to be found on the slopes west of the Union boulevard entrance and in the hollows along Lindell drive.

Dandelion Hunters Busy.

In the woods, west of, and unspaded portion of the park, which greatly delights many nature-lovers, the May apple—a stately stalk carrying its bloom—a five-petaled flower like a large anemone—buttering the lawn everywhere. Superintendent Strehle declares that the big lawn about the large fountain in dandelion sight the park offers. But dandelions in these arid days have other uses and hunters already have their knives at work.

Other parks, also—Tower Grove, O'Fallon, Fairgrounds and particularly Chain of Rocks—reflect the favorable spring with the same plant gorgeousness as does Forest Park, lacking only expansiveness to give emphasis to the green carpet.

"BRAVO" CLIQUE CHARGE BY DAMROSCH ANSWERED BY AGENT

"Can't Keep Performers From Paying Tickets for Friends, Can We?" Asks Damrosch.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Charges of Walter Damrosch, famous orchestra conductor, that highly organized hired clique had been permitted to invade the Metropolitan Opera House and nearly break up the performance with their "bravos" and hand-clapping, yesterday drew from William J. Guard, Metropolitan press representative, this statement:

"Twenty years ago Mr. Damrosch appeared here as a conductor of operas and conditions were just the same."

"You can't keep performers from buying 30 or 40 tickets and presenting them to their friends. And you can't keep the friends from applauding, can you?"

Damrosch made his charges in an address at a dinner last night in honor of Willem Mengelberg, a fellow conductor.

Social Items

The Committee on Arrangements for the rummage sale for the benefit of the St. Louis Maternity Hospital, April 27 and 28, has chosen a building at 811 North Ninth street for the purpose. A downtown receiving station will also be arranged for. At present, donations will be received by Mrs. Benoit Carton at 4484 Westminster place, or will be called for if a request is made to Mrs. R. G. Chapman Jr., Forest 7450. Among those who are working for the success of the sale are Meses. Len O. Hocker, John Lonsdale, Robert Burns, Virgil R. Kennedy, Green, Leslie Dana, Fred Plant, Dewey Hickey, Scott Porter, George Millus, W. K. Hixby, Carol Hill and the Misses McCulley. The committee met this morning at the home of Mrs. David C. Biggs, chairman, 5370 Waterman avenue.

Mrs. Isaac Lippincott of 5544 Cabanne avenue will be hostess at a luncheon Wednesday at the University Club complimentary to her sister, Mrs. George Robertson of Edinburgh, Scotland, who is visiting Mrs. C. H. Hocker, Jr., 4141 Clarendon avenue. Mrs. Robertson has been extensively entertained during her visit, and a number of affairs have been planned for next week.

Mrs. William R. Kinealy of 5557 Goodfellow avenue will give a luncheon April 18 in honor of 12 seniors at the Sacred Heart convent at Maryville, who will be at home for the Easter holidays.

Mrs. Harry Potter of 7 Kingsbury place has returned from Boston, New York and Harrisburg, Pa., where she has been visiting for two weeks.

Mrs. Charles Errington, wife of Col. Errington, who recently returned from Miami, Fla., has been spending a few days with Mrs. William R. Kinealy. She and Col. Errington will be guests at Algonquin Club until May 1, when Col. Errington will be stationed in Omaha.

Mrs. Adolphe Neuville of 3522 Hawthorne boulevard entertained 10 guests at a luncheon yesterday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. White, formerly of 544 Delmar boulevard, have taken possession of their new home at 5244 Westminster place. Their apartment on Delmar boulevard has been leased by Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Christy.

Mrs. Cary N. Weisiger, Jr., of Evanston, Ill., and her baby, are guests at the Bon Air Hotel for a few days. Later they will visit friends, returning to Evanston in about two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Perkins of 4410 Washington boulevard have gone to Excelsior Springs, Mo., for a fortnight.

Mrs. Edward Williams of Springfield, Ill., is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. Harold Sheahan of 5530 Pershing avenue.

THE WILL GIVE BRIDGE PARTY TOMORROW

MISS KATHERINE SCHEU.
—Muriel Post.

5740 Cabanne avenue gave a dinner party Tuesday evening for Verner White, the apple blossom painter, and Mrs. White. Among the guests were Louis Dodge, the St. Louis post, and Mr. and Mrs. Watts' daughter, Mrs. Martha Watts Frey of Springfield, Mo., who is the guest of her parents. After the dinner Mrs. Isabel Belt entertained the guests with several songs.

Miss Katherine Scheu of 6112 Kingsbury boulevard will be the hostess at a bridge party tomorrow afternoon complimentary to Mrs. Thomas Brittingham Jr. of Chicago, formerly Miss Mildred Candy, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. Gilbert Candy. Miss Esther Moody entertained the members of Kappa Alpha Theta with a tea Tuesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Brittingham.

PARIS, April 7.—An observant writer in the French press gives a list of names of men and women who attended a certain brilliant society event on the Riviera and lamented because not a single Frenchman was among them.

"It is always like that now," he continues. "At all our resorts, where life is joyous, elegant, chic and expensive, the French are conspicuous by their absence. Our marble palaces never shelter a Frenchman. In our casinos, around the green baize-covered tables, one never sees a Frenchman. On our race courses, in the owners' paddock, the number of Frenchmen can be counted on the fingers of one hand."

"Even our new rich, with their miserable French cannot compete with American and British dollar and sterling millionaires and their peacocks and Spaniards and their peacocks. Not the rich Frenchman cannot stand the pace. He must make way for the wealthy stranger; must resign himself to the role of a spectator of the dance, and be content to sell the foreigner his art collection, tapestries and chateaux."

Rather bitterly other French writers declare that they do not desire to awaken pity and that, of course, it is a very good thing for France that wealthy strangers should visit the country and lend "la grande vie." But they do wish those privileged visitors would notice that no French men and women are to be found in a bad way and need some kind of reparation.

DR. IGNATIUS POWELL DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Former Assistant Police Surgeon Succumbs to Illness After Injuries in Accident.

Dr. Ignatius W. Powell, 41 years old, 4455 Washington boulevard, died at 9:10 last night at the Missouri Baptist Sanitarium of pneumonia following an automobile accident Feb. 26 in which several ribs were fractured.

Dr. Powell was a graduate of Barnes Medical College, and began practice here in 1907. He was for several years official physician for the city. He was made assistant police surgeon on Aug. 5, 1918, and resigned April 7, 1921, after the present Police Commissioners demanded the resignations of medical appointments of the last board.

He was a member of the City Boxing Commission, recently authorized in an ordinance passed by the Board of Aldermen, but which has not yet functioned owing to court proceedings.

Dr. Powell for years attended all the world's championship fights and had not missed one since the famous Sullivan-Corbett bout at New Orleans in 1922.

Several years ago, with others, he organized the Coliseum Athletic Club, which conducted boxing shows at the present Coliseum Building. He retired from the club following the celebrated contest between Jack Dillon and Kayo Brown, which was declared no contest and which was followed by legal proceedings which extended over a period of eight years.

He was unmarried, and lived at the Hermitage with his brother, Dr. C. A. Powell. Another brother resides in Louisville, Ky., and two others and his mother, Mrs. Malinda A. Powell, live at his birthplace, New Bloomfield, Mo. A sister, Mrs. E. McConaha, resides at Rome, Ga. Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at the Powell home, which will follow in the family burial grounds.

FOUR STILLS FOUND BY POLICE IN A DAY

Bartender Is Arrested After Alleged Sale of Whisky for Marked Bill.

Police raided the home of William Dinham, 2719 Belt avenue, yesterday and found in the basement a 10-gallon copper wash boiler still, half a sack of rye, nine empty 15-gallon kegs and six kegs filled with rye mash. Dinham, who was upstairs, was arrested.

At David Schultz's tailor shop, 1012 North Twenty-first street, in a rear room, curtained from the shop, a still, five barrels of mash and half a gallon of alcohol were found.
Schultz and another man found in the shop were arrested. Schultz said he rented the rear room to another man and did not know what was in it.

Brothers Arrested at 8th.
When the police went to the home of James Gambino, 1027 North eighth street, they reported they found James and his brother Frank, of 21 Franklin avenue, operating a 15-gallon still on the second floor.
They arrested the two men and seized 20 barrels of mash, two 5-gallon cans of illicit liquor and various utensils.

Elvis Tidd and another man were arrested when the police found a five-gallon still in operation at Tidd's home, 2844 O'Meara avenue. They seized the still, 11 barrels of corn meal mash and 28 gallons of illicit liquor. The police say that Tidd has served time in the Atlanta penitentiary for violation of the Volstead act.

Marked Bill Used.
A policeman in citizen's clothes bought, with a marked bill, a soda water bottle of illicit whisky from Frank Buneta, bartender at Jacob Padjen's saloon, 2911 Chouteau avenue. Buneta was then arrested and the marked bill found in the cash register. Padjen was arrested Oct.
7 and fined $100 for selling liquor.
was not in the place yesterday.

BONUS AND STATIONS FOR WAR VETERANS TO BE ESTABLISHED

Stations for the assistance of all former soldiers, sailors and marines who were in the World War in obtaining their State bonus money will be established soon by the American Legion at more than 20 important street intersections in the city.
These will be manned by representatives of various legion posts. The service will not be confined to legion members.

A discharge or certificate of discharge, in the event the original was lost, must be exhibited on applying for the bonus. Applications will be typewritten and forwarded to the Bonus Commission at Jefferson City by the legion. The individuals will take out the blanks to obtain necessary witness signatures, and afterward bring them back for certification before a notary.

"not a single case of cruelty"

This record is a wonderful tribute to a great city of nearly 1,000,000 people. It indicates the fine feeling in the hearts of St. Louisans toward child welfare.

But, let us not forget a cruelty upon which there is no legal penalty—a young boy forced to leave school that he may take a man's place in the world—a youth, untrained, facing years of hopeless toil.

Sufficient Life Insurance protection for every family will help to overcome this greater cruelty—

An appreciation of the Life Insurance Man's responsibility to the mothers and children of St. Louis is one reason the Home Office Agents of the Missouri State Life are writing $2,000,000 of business monthly in St. Louis. This means an average of 1,000 homes protected every month.

JURY DECIDES FOR DEFENDANTS IN $50,000 DAMAGE LITIGATION

Plaintiff Loses in Case Growing Out of Letter Regarding Situation in Neighborhood.

A jury in Circuit Judge Rutledge's court yesterday returned a verdict in favor of former Circuit Attorney Lawrence McDaniel and George E. Thomas, 1021 Forest avenue, who were sued for $50,000 damages by Samuel J. Douglas, a draftsman in the City Sewer Department.

The suit grew out of a letter which the defendants sent to the City Complaint Board in regard to the plaintiff and which, he alleged, caused him to be arrested and placed in the City Hospital observation ward, where he was detained for three days. The letter was written Nov. 29, 1916, at which time the plaintiff and the defendants were all living in the same block in Forest avenue. It stated that Douglas had annoyed members of the McDaniel and Thomas families and that he could not be tolerated in the neighborhood. Douglas charged that there was no justification for the complaint. He and McDaniel both moved to different neighborhoods after the incident.

TERM "HOBO" BEING RESENTED BY MIGRATORY WORKERS' UNION

National Convention at Columbus, O., Takes Stand Against Vagrancy Laws in Vogue.

By the Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, O., April 7.—The appellation "hobo" and vagrancy laws in vogue throughout the country are principal topics of discussion at the national convention of the Migratory Workers' Union, in session here.

"We detest the appellation hobo, and we resent prevailing vagrancy laws and the entire union membership is behind a propaganda campaign to correct these defects," John Kelly of Chicago, national secretary, declared today.

Members insist they are not hoboes. They say they are out of work many times and ride the "rattlers," but always work when they can find it.

A declaration of principles was adopted by the organization. Decision was made to work for Federal health inspection of construction camps, abolishment of prison contract labor, a shorter workday, free transportation to and from jobs and abolition of privately owned employment bureaus.

News of the Business World

By Wire to the Post-Dispatch

ATLANTA, Ga.—The pre-Easter season in the Southeast has stimulated the retail trade, and while business is not all that the merchants would like, it is considerably better than a year ago. This is particularly true as to volume, but reduced prices have contributed to hold down net profits.

In women's ready-to-wear garments merchants remark a decided increase in the demand for cheap products, and in many instances high-priced apparel has been reduced materially to expedite its sales. Women's suits in tweeds and chevrons that were bought to retail for $50 have been marked down to $25 and $30, at which figure they have sold readily.

The millinery business has been reduced in volume, but hats have been much cheaper in price. Many stores that heretofore have stocked only pattern hats are this season offering untrimmed shapes with a wider variety of trimmings. Some are offering to affix the trimmings free to encourage sales.

Produce and grocery dealers regard as a healthy sign the substantial reductions in green vegetables, poultry and eggs and attendant increased demand for such products. Much garden truck is available for half what it cost a year ago, and eggs have reached the pre-war level.

Strawberries may be had in abundance throughout the district, but, for the most part, they are Florida raised and continue to retail for about 30 cents a quart. As the Georgia, Alabama and Carolina berries ripen, a material reduction in prices will be noted.

DETROIT BUSINESS GROWING.

DETROIT, Mich.—Business in this territory continues to gain momentum from week to week with improvement reported from industries not heretofore heard from. The approach of a reaction which a few have predicted is not indicated by anything an observer sees or hears in this field. The leading motor car manufacturers held their gains this week and the parts makers are nearing capacity production. The employment report for the week exhibits another high record for the year with an increase over the previous seven-day period of 5300 workers. Total industrial employment has reached 244,000, or 55,000 more than the total men employed at this time last year.

Conditions throughout the State are reflected in the report of the Michigan Manufacturers' Association, which says:

"Employment conditions are between 8 and 10 per cent better in every manufacturing city in Michigan than a month ago. Banks are beginning to make construction loans. Retail dealers in goods used by farmers have bought or are buying larger stocks of farm machinery and similar articles than at any time since the war."

The market for good investment bonds is broadening daily and reflects the increased payrolls of the last three months.

GENERAL TOPICS.

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—A co-operative marketing association has been formed to handle shipments of fruit, hay and produce from the Middle West and vegetables from the South. The organization is being backed principally by the Farmers' Union and 200 shipping stations have been established.

CHICAGO—The head of one of the largest mail order houses said today that so long as the number of orders continued to increase, his concern did not worry about their volume. He estimated that it would require this year's crops and next year's crops to put the farmer firmly back on his feet financially.

CLEVELAND—Building permits issued here in March involved an expenditure of almost as great a sum as those of January and February combined, totaling $2,602,975. This big increase took place in face of a building trades tie-up, which, however, is expected to be adjusted by the end of this week.

TOYS.

CHICAGO—Toys at retail are ranging from 10 to 25 per cent lower in price than last year. Increasing attention is being given to doll accessories.

DRUGS.

NEW YORK—The price for castor oil has risen well above $20 a ton and is increasing in value. Practically the entire supply comes from British Columbia and the trees there are reported to be dying out as a result of improper stripping of the bark by Indian and Japanese gatherers.

FLOUR.

KANSAS CITY, MO.—Orders greater in number, but smaller in tonnage, are keeping up the shipping averages of the Kansas City flour millers. Export trade, an outgrowth of the war, is being well maintained.

FISH.

SEATTLE, Wash.—The demand for canned salmon continues good with prices firm. Future sales of pinkies have been recorded recently at $1.05 a dozen as compared with the present price of $1.10. The new pack, it is estimated by the American Can Co., will be around 4,500,000 cases compared with a normal pack of 6,000,000.

HATS.

NEW YORK—Orders for straw hats are coming in from the South in good volume and hat makers are busy with plants running fully 90 per cent of capacity.

LEATHER.

CHICAGO—Uncertainty of manufacturers as to the styles of women's shoes is retarding trade in leather. Retailers will not buy heavily of prevailing combinations of patent leather, suede and sport shoes combining patent leather with elk leather. One transaction involving 5000 dozen hides to be used in men's shoes is reported.

CANNED GOODS.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Some Minnesota corn canners have announced a price of $1.40 a dozen delivered at Eastern common points for their 1932 pack to compete with the Maine canners.

VEGETABLES.

CRYSTAL SPRINGS, Miss.—Car lot shipments of early vegetables are expected to be started for Northern markets on April 12 and it is believed the movement will be one-third larger than last year.

TOBACCO.

LANCASTER, Ky.—Bank clearings, here, the center of the tobacco industry in this State, are well above those of a similar period last year.

Because they think that they will have to pay more, or that they can't get the best merchandise in a CREDIT STORE, or is it because you feel backward in asking for CREDIT on the SMALL PAYMENT PLAN? Or possibly you don't want your neighbor to know that you buy and pay on the EASY PAYMENT PLAN. Don't hesitate—you're dealing with us are STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL and your neighbor, most likely, is one of our best customers. Prominent people use their CREDIT TO DRESS WELL.

ST. LOUIS WOMAN PLAYS BASKETBALL AT 70

Mrs. Sarah C. Conrad Says It Helps Her to Keep Young; Learned to Swim at 60.

Mrs. Sarah C. Conrad of 739 Westgate avenue, who, with her husband, John F. Conrad, president of the J. F. Conrad Grocer Co., will celebrate her golden wedding anniversary next Sunday, attends gymnasium classes and plays basketball at the age of 70, and learned to swim when she was 60.

"I take the gymnasium work because it keeps me young," she told a Post-Dispatch reporter. "Although I am by far the oldest woman in the class, I get along as well or even better than some of the women who are much younger. Most old people are feeble, not because of their advanced age, but because they do not exercise their bodies."

"I began going to gymnasium when I was 57. I had been a member of a turnverein when I was a girl, but while I was rearing my family I was too busy to attend. Since I started the work I have attended gymnasium regularly twice a week. When I went on a three months' visit to Los Angeles a few years ago, I hunted up a gymnasium there and kept on with my work."

Attends Class Twice a Week. "I attend a class that meets at the Y. W. C. A. at 10:30 a. m. on Mondays and Thursdays. For one hour we are given calisthenics and dancing by the leader, after which we play basketball, volleyball or cageball. I like all of these sports, they require agility, and I find no difficulty in getting about the floor as easily as the younger women."

"After the games, if there is time, I go for a swim in the pool. I took up swimming 10 years ago, upon my doctor's advice, as a cure for nervousness. I find it helps me a great deal."

ILLINOIS COAL OPERATORS REJECT WAGE NEGOTIATIONS

Action in Indiana and Ohio Declared to Have Nullified Prospects for Success.

The rejection by coal mine operators in Indiana and Northern Ohio of a wage negotiation in Washington with the international officers of the United Mine Workers of America has been followed by similar action on the part of the three coal operators' associations in Illinois.

In a letter to Chairman Nolan of the House Committee on Labor, a joint committee of the Illinois operators' associations stated that the action of the Indiana and Ohio operators had nullified any possible prospect for the success of the proposed negotiations.

The Illinois operators have expressed the belief that if the House Committee feels that it is empowered to arrange a conference and to entirely legalize both its negotiations and final outcome it would seem to be wiser that operators and miners of all parts of the country should be called into such a conference so as to give promise of quicker results and a fair and economic solution of the nation-wide difficulty now confronting the coal industry.

U. S.-Alaska Cable Money Requested.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Request for an appropriation of $1,000,000 in the army supply bill for the building of a new cable between the United States and Alaska was asked of the Senate Appropriations Committee yesterday by the War Department.

and this is taken to reflect activity and prosperity for the tobacco growers in this country.

SHOES.

SEATTLE, Wash.—The number of pairs of shoes sold here is about equal to that of last year. Price reductions of 25 and 50 cents a pair are being made from time to time and the highest-priced shoe in one exclusive store at present is $12.50.

STEEL.

CHICAGO.—One railroad in this district is reported to be in the market for 30,000 tons of track materials. It is reported that the New York Central is arranging for 15,000 new cars.

CLEVELAND, O.—The sheet mills of the Ohio Steel Co. is operating at practically full capacity and the company is reported to be breaking even financially.

PITTSBURG, Pa.—Before the end of the month it is believed the Carnegie Steel Co. will have between 25 and 40 of its 55 furnaces producing pig iron.

COAL.

CLEVELAND, O.—Despite the coal strike there is less coal afloat at Lake Erie ports than a year ago. This is taken to indicate that manufacturers are well supplied and do not fear a shortage.

PITTSBURG, Pa.—The H. C. Frick Coke Co. this week increased coke and coal operations in the great Countryside field and independents have followed the same course. There is perhaps more coal stored in this district than at any previous time.

WOOL.

SEATTLE, Wash.—There is little activity in the wool market here. Prices of sorted wool are off about 10 cents a pound from the high mark of the recent speculative flurry.

WOOLENS.

NEW YORK.—The worsted yarn market is quiet and sellers declare they expect no marked improvement until the fabric market has become stabilized.

GALLI CURCI ROBBED OF $45,000 OF JEWELS BY 2 GIRLS

Case Containing Diamonds, Left in Rest Room of Cafe
by Maid, Gone When She Looks for It.

EMPLOYEE TELLS OF SEEING YOUNG WOMEN

Theft Occurs at Stopping Point for Auto Parties, Midway Between San Diego and Los Angeles.

By the Associated Press.
SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Cal., April 7.—Madame Galli-Curci, opera singer, was robbed here yesterday of jewels and valuables which she said were worth $45,000 when two girls fled with a jewel case that had been left by the singer's maid in a safe rest room. The singer and her party had stopped at San Juan Capistrano for lunch.

The singer, her husband, Homer Samuels, and the maid, departed at once for Los Angeles to aid in the search for the girls, after first telephoning the facts to the authorities there and at San Diego.

Stopping Place for Auto Parties.
San Juan Capistrano is the usual midway point for automobile parties between San Diego and Los Angeles. The traffic is almost entirely by automobile, and frequently arriving and departing stages, as well as scores of private cars, made it difficult to determine which way or by what conveyance the girls fled after the robbery.

Samuels telephoned a description of the lost jewels to the Sheriff's office at San Diego and notified the officers at San Diego and Los Angeles.

According to Samuels, Madame Galli-Curci and the latter's maid, Mrs. Mae Hendrickson, were traveling by motor between Los Angeles and San Diego and stopped here for lunch. The jewels had been entrusted to the maid. She stepped into a rest room in a cafe, laid the jewel case down for a moment and then, realizing what she had done, returned to get it. It was gone.

Jewels Listed as Missing.
Mrs. Hendrickson said there were two young women in the rest room, both blondes, and one tall and wearing a light coat. She had no other description of them. The jewels were in a small blue leather case, about the size of the case of a portable typewriter. They included the following items:

One 17-karat diamond on a platinum chain.
One pair of diamond earrings, 14-karat diamond in each drop.
One diamond pendant, set in platinum.
One pendant containing 10 large diamonds set in a row of sapphires.
One pair of large ornaments, each containing rows of diamonds set in onyx (about 100 small stones in all).
One solitaire diamond ring.
One emerald necklace with gold chain.
Two small diamond rings.
One pair of emerald earrings to match.
One very large carved single emerald in gold mounting.
A number of small single pieces.

Pupils Threaten to Strike.
EFFINGHAM, Ill., April 7.—The students of the Effingham High School held a mass meeting and voted to strike unless school was dismissed to allow the teachers who desired to attend the State Teachers' Associated Convention in East St. Louis. School was dismissed.

PRIEST GIVES VIEWS OF OTHER DENOMINATIONS
Christian Science and Spiritualism, and Various Churches Criticized.
The Rev. William J. Ryan, S. J., vice president of St. Louis University, in his final Lenten lecture at St.
Francis Xavier's Church Wednesday night, attacked Spiritualism, criticized Christian Science and expressed his views of the principal Protestant denominations. His theme was,
"Which is the True Church of Christ? The conclusion being that the Roman Catholic Church is the true church.
Father Ryan quoted Harry Houdi-ni, handcuff expert, as authority for the statement that so-called spirit demonstrations were fraudulent.
"Spiritualism," Father Ryan said,
"with all its deception and quackery, has ensnared and enslaved thousands, has debased and ruined many curious, unsuspecting, simple-minded men and women, and has wrecked many happy homes. This is, in substance, the statement of William B. Potter in his pamphlet, "Facts, Fancies and Fables of Spiritualism."
"For many years Spiritualists made much of the results produced in the physical order, as rapping, table-turning and lifting, playing musical instruments, apparitions and such like. So much criticism came on them from frequent exposures that this part is more or less relegated to the background or rejected entirely.
"No Authority in Spiritualism.
"Spiritism is chiefly concerned now with psychic effects, messages from departed souls. We have not time to enter into a detailed account of their theories, but we may state briefly that there is no dominating personality in Spiritualism, no authority; secondly, the teaching of spiritism is the teaching of spirits, and what credentials have spirits to teach religious truth to mankind?
Also, what sort of spirits are they?
If they have a message from God should they not identify themselves so that we might have reason for believing them?
"History records necromancy, calling forth evil spirits and such like practices far back in the history of mankind, but nowhere until 1848 does it develop into a religious cult.
Surely spiritism has little to cause us to even suspect it of being the church which Christ established.
Conan Doyle to Speak on Subject.
"Sir Arthur Conan Doyle will arrive in this country, within a few weeks, to preach what he chooses to call the new revelation—spiritism.
This I noted in a letter which Houdi-ni showed me when he was in town last February. Houdini paid me a visit, and to my statement that of all the effects produced by automatic writing, apparitions, etc., 90 per cent were fraudulent or the result of mere natural sleight-of-hand, added: "Further, I know that 100 per cent of them are perfectly natural and can prove it." He said that he attended 5000 seances, even gave them when a young man and in need of money. He has a standing offer of $1000 to be donated to charity, if he fails to produce by natural means every effect which any spiritualist claims to produce through the agency of spirits.
Speaks Christian Science.
Of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, founder of Christian Science, Father Ryan remarked that "she was a modest woman, merely placing herself on an equality with Christ, and deciding that her doctrine came from inspiration." Of the Christian Science doctrine he said, "It contains some things which are new and some things which are true, but the things that are true are not new, and the things that are new are not true."
He declared that mental therapy, while a recognized branch of medical practice, is not a sufficient foundation for a religion.

Game Miller Huggins May Not Be Able to Manage Those Yankees, but He Manages to Get By

St. Louis Clubs, Improved Since 1921, Face a Rocky Road to Pennantville

So Many Potential Boulders and Mudholes in Path That as Phil Ball Says, Talk of Championship So Early Is Silly Rot.

By J. Roy Stockton. "Mr. Ball, you are going to win a pennant SURE," said a baseball writer to the Browns' owner in the course of a celebration party in the manager's room after the Fohlies had defeated the Cardinals at New Orleans. Ball's spicily punctuated reply, mildly put, follows:

"I've listened to that bunk-doodle for four years. Don't tell me that silly rot. I have a good club this year. The Cardinals are a mighty good club. Each has a chance. Do you understand, a chance. But for you to sit here on April 1 and tell me I'm going to win a pennant is silly Rot. I've been of age for some time."

That is the idea exactly and highly inflated confidence on the part of the public at this springtime stage of the baseball season will do more harm than good. Each club has a chance, and the history of pennant races is full of cases where fine teams were beaten out.

The Case of the Pirates. Take last year for instance. The Pirates for almost the entire season were in first place. Then, overconfidence, too much quartet, or something, overtook the Pirates, their dauber went down and the Giants won out, although there were many at the world series who asserted that the two clubs in the N. L. the Pirates and Cardinals, were better than the Giants. That was particularly true of the Cardinals in October.

In the case of the St. Louis clubs last season a poor start prevented each from attaining the highest place in the race. The Cardinals were killed by weak spring fielding and erratic pitching. After July the Cardinals displayed championship caliber in all departments.

The Browns were ruined by lack of a major league infield. For a time Jake was at first, McManus at second and Lee at short and Piggy Lamb at third for the Browns. Siler was absent for several periods. Davis started poorly and the entire pitching staff, with the exception of Shockley, was slow in delivering.

In considering the pennant prospects this season the chance of last season's troubles recurring must be weighed. Only the season will decide, but spring training indications make the situation appear to be about as follows:

Fohl will start the season with an infield with which he says he is entirely satisfied.

The Brownie Infield. Siler at first, can be counted on to perform brilliantly as last year, when he hit .371 and fielded .993. McManus, green and unreliable early last year, appears this year to be a potential star of the first class. There is every reason to be confident that he will hit much better than the .260 of last year and to be a more reliable as a fielder. Last season's reliable as a fielder. Last season's reliable as a fielder.

Shockley, who was a good pitcher last year, will be as good as ever. He is certain to hit .300 or better. He is certain to hit .300 or better. He is certain to hit .300 or better.

The Cards' Weak Link. In the case of the Cardinals the question can be narrowed down to one department, almost. If the Cardinals get the proper pitching they should give the Giants a terrible battle for the pennant. In this league there appears to be only two teams, the Cards and Giants. Pittsburgh may come back, but it is more probable that the fatal slump last year will be the same dangerous pennant contender this season.

Last season the Rickeymen fielded impossibly, especially early in the race. It finished sixth in the league in fielding, with .965. There is no assurance that its fielding this year will be much superior to that. The same men will be in there and there is no reason to expect that their work will be better, except that all will be in condition this spring, whereas there were several tardy starters in 1921.

The Cardinal infield, intact from 1921, is a mighty slugging combination, with the exception of Lavan. John this spring has been ill a great deal, underweight, and one of the club's worries will be removed when he rounds to his form of last year. However, his 1921 batting average of .259 necessitates an excellent fielding performance, if he is to keep Toporner on the bench.

The outfield will be even better than last season. Smith will be ready on time for a change. Helme Mueller is better than ever. McHenry is his old brilliant self. There is no better outfielder in St. Louis than the "Atreides." Mann will be ready to relieve Mueller if Helme can't hit southpaws. Joe Schultz will alternate with Smith, without any loss in hitting or fielding strength, and Heathcote must increase his batting power to break in.

McGraw is stronger this year than he was last. And so it can be seen that, though the Cardinals should finish second at the worst, the margin between second place and the pennant is a mighty mountain. It will be a great accomplishment if the Cardinals can overcome the Giants' advantages. To do this the Cardinals MUST GET PITCHING, much better pitching than they had last season.

This story is not written for the joy of singing the blues. Rather, the object is to disillusion those fans who figure that a pennant is a sure thing. Those are the fans who too frequently get out the hammer and hurt razzerberries at players when they beat one.

Both St. Louis ball clubs are going to play some weird games this year. They played one atrocious contest at New Orleans. There will be others. Spectators can help the players by departing from the time-honored custom of panning an error, or a faltering pitcher. If the fans display a spirit as healthy and wholesome as that which exists on both St. Louis clubs it will be a long stride on the way to pennantville.

At second the Browns are much stronger than they were during the major part of last season. Gerber, who batted .278 and fielded .943 last year, and who is far more dangerous as a batter than his average indicates, also gives promise of having a year as good as he did in 1921. He is a fine short-stop, follows a ball perfectly and can hold his own with any in the league.

Will Ellerbe Deliver? Frank Ellerbe's work this spring has drawn much praise. He has manipulated plays of surpassing brilliance, but there are many among the Browns' close followers who whisper, when cornered, that Ellerbe's 1922 performance will determine the Browns' success or failure. The belief appears to be that only at the close of the season, when the Browns' inner line questionable.

Fohl is ready to stand or fall on Ellerbe's work. He will hit on him. And after watching "Guv" in the spring games the writer is inclined to string with Fohl. Ellerbe has the fighting spirit, the winning spirit, and everybody who has seen him asserts that he is playing better than he ever did for Washington.

Fohl's outfield of Tobin, Jacobson and Williams is intact from last year, and, barring accidents, perform as well in field and at bat as last season, when Tobin and Jake hit .352 and .347 respectively.

Collins Greatly Improved. Behind the bat the Browns will be better fortified than they were last season. Collins has improved steadily and will do much of the catching. He is certain to hit .300 or better. He is certain to hit .300 or better. He is certain to hit .300 or better.

Shocks' pitching staff should be far superior to the collection of throwers who were in the Browns' lineup last year. Shockley will be as good as ever. He is certain to hit .300 or better. He is certain to hit .300 or better. He is certain to hit .300 or better.

Toporner's pitching staff should be far superior to the collection of throwers who were in the Browns' lineup last year. Toporner will be as good as ever. He is certain to hit .300 or better. He is certain to hit .300 or better. He is certain to hit .300 or better.

Noted Coaches to Address Alumni at 'Big Ten' Banquet

Branch Rickey Will Be Toastmaster at Gathering of Western Conference Men.

St. Louis baseball celebrities will feature the conference here today of the "Big Ten" alumni class (the Western University Conference), which culminates at the Statler Hotel, tonight, in a banquet for which over 400 reservations have been made.

To start with, George Siler of the Browns, a Michigan University alumnus, will be the guest of honor this morning at Cleveland High School, where Fielding H. Yost, Director of Athletics at Ann Arbor and for a score of years coach of Michigan's great football eleven, will present the "Michigan Bowl" to the Cleveland High School five, interscholastic basketball champions.

The presentation will be made at 10:15 o'clock and at noon Yost will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the St. Louis Alumni of Michigan University.

The other local baseball celebrity to be featured by the "Big Ten" proceedings is Branch Rickey, manager of the Cardinals and discoverer of Siler and Lavan, both former Ann Arbor stars. Rickey will be toastmaster at tonight's banquet at the Statler and will introduce several nationally known coaches who will address the gathering. Among the speakers who are expected to be heard are:

"Professionalism" to Be Debated. Fielding H. Yost, Michigan, and Ward Lambert, Purdue, will debate the subject of "Professionalism in University Athletics." Maj. J. L. Griffiths will talk on the purpose of competitive athletics. Prof. Fred Merrill will discuss the "Oriental in Athletics," with reference to the Japanese. Ted Robinson will enlarge upon "Swimming and Its Relation to Other Sports," and Dr. J. W. Wilcox of Ohio State will give his views on "Conference Athletics and Co-operation."

The discussion of professionalism will be the live subject on the program, owing to the widespread discussion that has arisen. Tonight's gathering is the result of organization of the alumni of the Big Ten schools, looking toward unified action on affairs important to all universities in the conference.

One feature, suggested as an annual event is to make the opening day of the professional baseball season a get-together affair, to be attended by the Big Ten alumni of the city.

Athletics Win a Game. PHILADELPHIA, April 7.—The Philadelphia American and National League clubs were scheduled to begin the last lap of their spring journey tonight after exhibition games this afternoon in North Carolina. The Athletics play Baltimore at Winston Salem, while the Phillies engage the Reading Internationals at Henderson. Yesterday the Athletics defeated the Molins (Ill.) team at Morgantown, N. C., 9 to 7, in a free-hitting contest and rain kept the Phillies off the diamond at Richmond, Va.

FOURNIER WILL BE UNABLE TO PLAY TOMORROW; MAY BE IN GAME WEDNESDAY

Jack Fournier, Cardinal first baseman, will be unable to play in the spring series game with the Browns at Sportsman's Park tomorrow afternoon, according to Dr. Robert F. Hynd, club physician, who said today that Fournier, who is at St. John's Hospital, might possibly recover in time to open the season Wednesday against Pittsburgh. Fournier suffered a scratch on his left leg during a spring trip game and the wound became infected.

Fournier will be the only regular missing from the lineup of the St. Louis clubs, which, with that exception, will present the same batting order, which finished the 1921 campaign. In Jack's absence Ed Galner probably will be at first base for the Rickeymen.

Draw in Wrestling Match. Ivan Linnov, Russian, and George Kotsoranos, Greek heavy, wrestled to a six-round draw at the Gayety Theatre, in the opinion of George Baptiste, referee. Both men got out of dangerous holds.

Wichita, Kan.—Ed Warner, San Francisco, and Hugh Walker, Kansas City, light heavyweights, fought here. The bout ended in a wrangle with Warner claiming a foul in the ninth round.

YANKEE OWNERS WILL BACK UP HUGGINS IN FINING OF CARL MAYS

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NORFOLK, Va., April 7.—"Miller Huggins is manager of the Yankees. Anything he does will receive the unqualified support of Col. Ruppert and myself. If he fines Mays $250 for misconduct the fine will stick."

Such was the declaration of Col. T. L. Huston here today when the Yankees trooped in from Bristol and found one of their "big bones" in the Monticello lobby.

"Huggins did the flogging himself," said Col. Huston. "It wasn't inspired by either Col. Ruppert or me, or by the business manager, Mr. Harrow. The Colonel and Huggins had a talk during the day and again the Yankee owner stated that the manager would be supported."

In the meantime Mays continues to make threats. He declares he will quit the team if the $250 fine is deducted from his salary.

GOLFERS IN SEMIFINAL OF NORTH-SOUTH EVENT

By the Associated Press. PINEHURST, N. C., April 7.—Henry J. Topping of Greenwich, Conn., E. L. Scofield of Pinehurst in a 20-hole match today in the second round of the North and South amateur golf championship. F. K. Roberson of Rochester defeated Donald Pearson of Youngstown, 5 and 4; M. Thomas of Nashville won from Arthur Bates of Rochester, 2 up, and W. C. Fowles Jr. of Oakmont won from Harold Weber of Toledo, 2 and 1.

Topping was 3 down to Scofield when they resumed play today at the ninth tee, the hole at which their match was interrupted yesterday by rain. The Greenwich player got the three holes back by doing three 's, but Scofield regained the lead and was 2 up with four to play.

RAILROAD SHARES ON STOCK MARKET

New York Traction Issues Have Wide Ranges in Both Stock and Bond Divi- sions - Reserve Banks Show Improvement.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, April 7.—Sales to 2 p. m. on the New York Stock Exchange today were 1,188,400 shares, compared with 1,227,200 yesterday. Sales to noon yesterday were 1,188,400 shares, compared with 1,227,200 yesterday. Sales to noon yesterday were 1,188,400 shares, compared with 1,227,200 yesterday.

The industrial shares which have been conspicuously active in the stock market's advance of the past week were holding off until the last part of the day. Specialties, the railroads and local traction stocks occupied the center of the stage with all the securities of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit and Interborough companies occupying a goodly share of speculative attention. Price movements in these issues were erratic but substantial gains resulted from the day's operations. Interborough, leading the group, was up 1/4 to 15 1/4. The stock was easily the feature of the day, the volume of transaction being several times the normal. Trading in other bond issues maintained the active pace which has been set recently and prices continued the upward tendency recently as mentioned. The rate on call loans ranged at 4 1/2 per cent all day.

Exchange Market Firmer.
The foreign exchange market was somewhat more active today and prices were generally firmer. Sterling advanced 1/16 to 24 1/2, and was up about a cent above its previous closing. French francs at 13 1/2 were practically unchanged, and lire at 2 1/2 cents were up 1/4. The Dutch and Scandinavian currencies registered advances of 1/16 to 1/8, and Spanish exchange made a further rally from its recent weakness, selling up to 15 1/4 cents, as against 15 1/4 two days ago. Right improvement was also evident in marks, which were quoted at 33 1/2 cents, compared with 32 1/2 yesterday.

Waiting Attitude in Grain.
The wheat and cotton markets were adopted what appeared to be a waiting attitude, and business in them was exceedingly dull. Wheat futures were holding off until the close, when crop reports appeared, and this was not issued until after the market had closed. May wheat followed today's performance of the market, and then losing the gain in the later trading. Its high point today was 1 1/4, but it reacted downward to 1 1/4. May cotton advanced 7 points up to 17 1/2 cents, but declined at the close to 17 1/2 cents.

Federal Reserve System.
While the reserve ratio for the Federal Reserve system as a whole remains virtually unchanged, the ratio of the two last named institutions now closely approximate the system's average, which for this week is 77.7. Indeed, the ratio of the Atlanta and Minneapolis banks now exceed those of the Boston and Chicago institutions. The gold reserve of the system increased during the week 7,800,000 and the Federal Reserve note circulation was larger by 11,000,000, while bills holding were less by 11,000,000. The shrinkage in discounted bills indicates a slack demand for credit for agricultural and business purposes and helps to explain the abundance of funds for speculative purposes in financial centers.

Bond Prices Strong.
NEW YORK, April 7.—The readjustment plan of the Interborough Rapid Transit Co. made those and affiliated issues the feature in the first half of today's active bond list. Interborough made an extreme gain of 4 1/2 points, almost half of which was later forfeited. The Metropolitan and the certificates rose 1 1/2 points each and Brooklyn Rapid Transit 1 1/2. Manhattan 4s and Third Avenue 4s and 5s, as well as the new Chesapeake 4s, gained 1/2 to 1 1/2 points.

Board Air Line refunding.
Anticipated and adjustment issues continued to lead the rails at further gains with Oregon Short Line 4s and Union Pacific 4s. The only heavy issue was St. Louis & San Francisco adjustment 6s, which lost 1 point. Liberty issues and several of the foreign Governments were in further demand later with the cheaper dollar, the latter including New Haven.

Federal Reserve System.
WASHINGTON, April 7.—The resources and liabilities of the Federal Reserve banks, combined of thousands of dollars at close of business April 6, were as follows:

RESOURCES:	Gold and gold certificates.	U. S. Govt. bonds.	U. S. Govt. securities.	U. S. Govt. securities.	U. S. Govt. securities.

IS YOUR CHILD SICK AND AILING

Give It Gude's Pepto-Mangan—For Thirty Years Doctors' Favorite Tonic

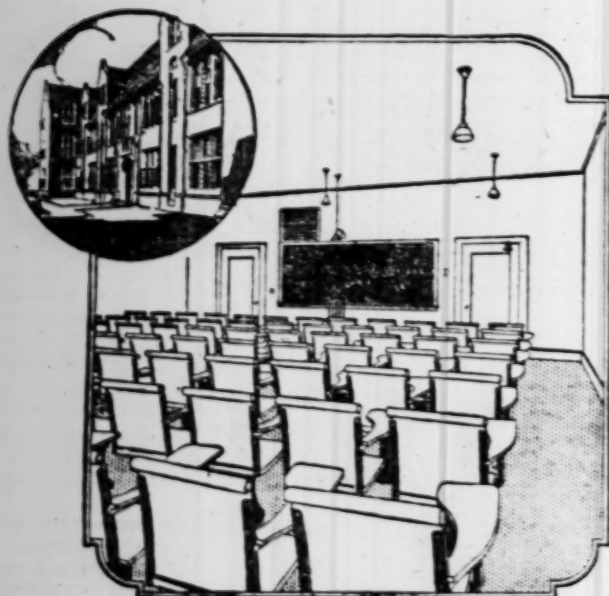

Children that grow too fast and play too hard or perhaps work too hard at school (oh, yes, some children do work hard at school) become pale and a little run-down, and then mothers and fathers become worried about them. The youngsters do not eat with their usual big appetites, and so they become thin and tire out easily. There is a simple and good remedy for this. It is Gude's Pepto-Mangan, the tonic rich in a certain form of iron that is readily absorbed by the system. Gude's Pepto-Mangan will soon put the color back into the children's cheeks and give them the kind of an appetite every mother loves to see. It is sold by druggists in two forms—liquid and tablet—and is absolutely safe to give to any child. Ask your home doctor what he thinks about Gude's Pepto-Mangan.

ASTHMA

A doctor writes: "You have the greatest asthma remedy that has ever been discovered by man, or ever will be discovered." See demonstration daily 12 to 3 P. M. Wellesley College, 8th and Pine. For particulars write Remick, 900 Pine St., St. Louis, Mo.

Armstrong's Linoleum

for Every Floor in the House

Wellesley College has clean, quiet floors

A COLLEGE is divided into classrooms, halls and offices, three distinct types of semi-public rooms where the floors get hard wear.

Four thousand yards of Armstrong's Linoleum on the floors of Wellesley College make walking pleasant, insure quiet for work and study, are no trouble to keep clean, and lend an air of beauty and dignity to this institution.

Architects and contractors are specifying Armstrong's Linoleum for floors because it comes near being the perfect floor.

What other material combines so perfectly these floor qualities:

Elasticity	Waterproof
Beauty	Smooth
Permanence	Needs no re-finishing
Easily cleaned	Warm in winter
Impervious to grease	Cool in summer

Talk with your architect or contractor or any good linoleum merchant about Armstrong's Linoleum. A good way to lay linoleum is to cement it down firmly over builders' deadening felt and then apply liquid wax thoroughly. All Armstrong's Linoleum is guaranteed to give satisfaction.

TRANSATLANTIC FLYERS GIVEN RECEPTION AT CAPE VERDE

Aviators Say They Probably Will Stop at St. Paul's Rock on Way to Fernando Noronha.

By the Associated Press.
ST. VINCENT, Cape Verde, April 7.—Capt. Coutinho and Capt. Sacadura, the Portuguese aviators, who are endeavoring to fly from Lisbon to Rio Janeiro, were tendered a reception yesterday afternoon in the town hall here.

Capt. Sacadura, in a statement, said that the date of the flight from Cape Verde Islands for South America had not been definitely fixed. He said that on the way to Pernambuco the hydroairplane might stop at St. Paul's Rocks to replenish its gasoline supply.

The hydroairplane was taken to the Government drydock for slight repairs to one of the pontoons.

The Portuguese cruisers Republica and Bengo, which are acting as escort vessels, arrived here yesterday morning.

St. Paul's Rocks lie about 300 miles northeast of Fernando Noronha, which is 275 miles out in the Atlantic northeast of Pernambuco. Previously it had been stated that the Portuguese aviators would make their first landing at Fernando Noronha after leaving the Cape Verde Islands. The distance from St. Vincent to St. Paul's Rocks is about 1000 miles and from St. Vincent to Fernando Noronha 1300 miles.

2-Pants Suits

A Love Marriage The Absorbing of a Woman's Heart

By Ayres.

TWENTIETH INSTALLMENT. LATER, Elsa came into the room. "Mother, aren't you?" "I have such a bad headache," she said. "You should be making my excuses to our guests and Juliet, my dear." She gave a little shudder. "They've gone, half an hour ago. I told them you were not here. I should have thought, 'Where have you been?' here, and the room was let me in." But I would not. I undressed and lay down in darkness. It was a very hot night though my head ached. I sleep would not come. I got up, threw on a gown, and went to the garden. The house was all silent. I threw the casement and leaned out. The cool, starry night air came. I fanned my face and thought of the darkness. Presently on the gravel path I heard the sound of a slow footstep coming. I drew back into the house. He came on down the path. He could not see him, but my heart as if it were, out there in the dark, keeping pace with his. When he came to my window, I stopped. For what seemed an hour I held my breath, not daring to move, as if impelled by an invisible hand, I leaned slowly forward, scooped over the sill, trying to see the darkness. The red tip of a cigar—shadow which was his figure—was all I could see; but somehow as if he knew my eyes, as if he exchanged voices with the darkness. Then he moved away down the gravel path as he had come. I was silent again. I left the window wide open, went back to bed and fell asleep. It was late morning when I awoke; someone was at my door. I jumped up, unlocked the key. The man there with my breakfast. "It's 10 o'clock, ma'am," as she saw my surprise, she laughed vexedly. "Why didn't you call me?" The girl looked apologetic. "Miss Elsa said you had a headache, ma'am; she told me to sleep." "Where is Miss Elsa?" But I knew, before she answered, that she had gone to the garden and walked through the woods. I noticed that there was a Francis crossed the hall; he looked at me with that smile that always made me strike him. "You were tired this morning," he said.

Fashion News Notes

PARIS.—Making a virtue of necessity, or an ornament of a utility, is what the dress accessory designers are doing at the moment. The watch, none other than the ubiquitous timepiece, is now the central motif for decorative purposes. Wrist watches there still are, jeweled all over and set in jeweled bracelets. But the very latest thing is to have a tiny watch, rimmed with brilliants, set into the handle of your fan—to time your flirtations. A clever little oblong watch is inserted in the front of a clever little oblong wrist bag, the watch enameled to match the silk of the bag. An armband, diagonally across the girdle, has a square watch hanging from it at the end of two crossed ribbons.

NEW YORK.—Sparkling sequins of jet form the only trimming for a shoulder scarf of gray crepe de chine. A row of sequins edges the scarf, which has almost the width of a cape. On the two ends the row of sequins expands into a wall-of-Troy motif and from the ends hang innumerable narrow gray ribbons strewn with bright jet points.

LONDON.—No article of dress is more popular just now than the jumper blouse. It comes in a score of styles. One trottur costume seen on a recent warm day was of gray hop-sack lined with tomato red crepe de chine. With this went a tomato red jumper on the girdle of which was a design of applied flowers in the gray hop-sack. The newest jumpers have round necks and sleeves ending above the elbows.

CHICAGO.—One of the cleverest beauty boxes displayed here takes the guise of an exquisite bisque doll gown in the hoops and panniers of colonial days. Beneath her full satin skirt is a satin-lined box intended for the dressing table and containing half a dozen beauty aids in compact little packages. The doll herself, with high coiffure and Janice curl, is worth a place in any boudoir quite aside from her utilitarian qualities.

NEW YORK.—One of the spring frocks in navy or black chiffon falls has something up its sleeve. It's a rainbow. The chiffon lining of the slashed sleeve suddenly reveals itself, at some movement of the wearer, as a brilliant spectrum of jade, purple, henna and gold. These colors are repeated on the girdle.

PARIS.—It is going to be a sunshade season, and with this vogue there returns the folding-up car-

Maxims of a Modern Maid

By Marguerite Moores Marshall

BEING happily married nowadays is really something of an embarrassment. One serves as "Exhibit A" to all one's friends—either as a moron or as a miracle.

When that old thriller "Forbidden Love" had its name changed to "Divorced and Remarried" almost any pair of authors may succeed in having it "passed by the censor"—Public Opinion.

To wake up cross, to fight over the breakfast table, to sit down to dinner shirt-sleeved and unshaven, to spend the afternoon in the unbecoming sleep of the averted, to wake up cross, to fight over the tea-table—that's Any husband's idea of a nice, quiet home Sunday.

Yes, Marie, it's a pity poor Ophelia committed suicide. But at least she escaped matrimony with a man who never knew his own mind twice running or five minutes at a time.

It must be so nice to be a man. He always knows when a girl is perfectly crazy about him—because he knows that she ALWAYS is!

When a woman wonders how long she will be able to stand a man, the answer depends on how long it takes the next man to show up.

The house-broken husband kisses his wife as conscientiously as he tips his waiter—and one practice means about as much as the other in his emotional life.

There's none so blind as the husband who will not see—and sooner or later he's due for an eye-opener.

riage parasol of the long ago. This little sunshade is daintier than ever: of white satin, for example, covered with black Chantilly lace and lined with faint rose chiffon, through which the sunshine casts a delicate flush on the face beneath. Other parasols, intended for use during an afternoon stroll, are elaborate affairs of lace and ribbon ruffles. One of the favorite types, is a Chinese parasol in some gay color, bordered with a rim of hand-painted little Chinese figures.

GINGER COOKIES

FOR ginger bread man—One-third cup butter or substitute, four cups flour, one-half cup sugar (brown or granulated), one-half teaspoon cinnamon, three teaspoons ginger, one teaspoon soda, one-half cup molasses, one-half cup milk (sour or sweet), one egg, beaten. Sift flour, sugar, soda and spices. Rub in shortening, add molasses, egg and milk, mixing with a knife. Turn on a floured board and knead lightly, adding more flour if necessary. Set aside in a cool place for an hour or more, then roll and cut into shape. Bake in a moderately hot oven. If desired glossy, brush over each cookie with slightly beaten egg before baking.

Recent budget studies have established the cost of living for a woman in Texas at $14.75 a week, a woman in Washington State at $22.10 a week and a woman in North Dakota at $16.65 a week.

Scalloped Olives and Corn

PUT two cups canned corn, two cups finely diced cooked celery and one half cup minced ripe olives in alternate layers into a buttered baking dish. Add one teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon pepper, two tablespoons butter and one-half cup milk. Cover with one-quarter cup buttered bread crumbs and bake in a moderate oven 30 minutes.

MINCED EGGS

B OIL six eggs hard. While they are cooking make a white sauce by blending two tablespoons butter with same of flour, and stirring in gradually one cup warm milk. Continue to stir until smooth. Add a little salt, pepper and two tablespoons of grated cheese. Shell eggs, cut in quarters. Pour over sauce and serve hot.

COFFEE
when you entertain

At the afternoon card party or in the evening when good friends call, there is nothing quite so sure to please—as Coffee. It is a beverage that every one likes.

For there is warmth and good cheer as well as good fellowship in a cup of Coffee.

Moreover, it may be served with equal propriety with the lowliest sandwich or the daintiest sweets. And it is always in good taste!

The phrase, "I-certainly-did-have-a-good-time," has a familiar ring to the hostess who serves—

AS A FAVOR TO THE RAILROAD.

A NEW YORK theatrical magnate had a bad attack of grippe in the winter and went South to recuperate. He stopped a few days in a small town in South Carolina. When he got ready to leave for the North he found the official bus had mysteriously vanished; probably the driver had gone joy riding. There was no conveyance, public or private, to be had; and in order to catch his train the North-erner was compelled to labor afoot over a mile and a half of dusty road, with a valise in each hand.

When he staggered up to the tiny station there was no one in sight except an old darky, who was sitting on the platform.

"Uncle," inquired the New Yorker, "why in the name of goodness did they build this depot so far from the town?"

The old man scratched his head.

"I don't know, boss," he said—"unless it wuz because dey wanted to git closer to de railroad!"

WEEK

WEEKS and WEEKS and WEEKS.

We gave in Give Week all we could.
We tried to dress our best in Style Week.
In Good Week we were fairly good.
And grinned considerably in Smile Week.
Though Fringe Week left us rather cold.
And we were little stirred by Tripe Week.
Vast fragrant clouds about us rolled
To show how we fell for Pipe Week.

In Dog Week we secured a pup.
But when somebody started Cat Week
We resolutely passed it up—
We didn't care much for that Week.
A rather hungry time we had
In following the rules of Toast Week.
And felt in consequence quite glad
When it was followed by Ghost Week.

We vainly sought to celebrate
As we were asked to do in Think Week.
We lacked the means to dissipate
Which seems to be required Drink Week.
Because of our advancing age
We couldn't celebrate Romance Week.
Nor could we ardently engage
In pastimes that were set for Dance Week.

We're rather weak on weeks, in fact
We haven't got the pep for Zest Week.
And find our nerves too badly racked
To get the rest we should in Rest Week.
And when we hear the flappers say
That presently we'll have a Cheek Week
We only can sit back and pray
To see at last an Anti-Week Week.

By the Associated Press.
SAN JUAN, P. R., April 6.—Mont Rely, Governor of P. R., Auditor Kessinger and Governor's private secretary, John Rely, charged in a grand jury presentment with misuse of public funds for private purposes. There are several counts against the three in the presentment.

The presentment, which typewritten pages of legal language expresses the belief of the jury that if present conduct continued and the indictment been delayed one year, treasury would have suffered considerable loss.

District Attorney Told
The District Attorney by the grand jury to prepare presentments and proceed against Rely and the others on the evidence and testimony of them for the purposes of the presentment.

The grand jury, which held an investigation into the charges concerning the adm of Gov. Rely, submitted to the court Wednesday, was requested to read the presentment and act on it. District Judge at first refused, saying a report from the grand jury afforded nothing on which could base any judicial action that the court could not take on any complaint in the report.

Refuses to Receive Rely
He added that once the presentment was finished it was the duty of the grand jury to indict or not. The grand jury insisted on delivery of the report to the court with a statement that "this is the result of the investigation and we deliver the report, proceeding in accordance with the law."

Judge Foote again refused to receive the report as a presentment, but put it aside in a envelope.

Friday the grand jury at the request of the District Attorney, asking the immediate attention to the charges of irregularities of Governor and other officials, Rely declared in his letter full confidence in completion.

Some of the local newspaper press the view that while it is right in taking this action that it would be better circumstances for him to be excused from all real the judicial officials being to act impartially in the presentment.

The District Attorney taken the action proposed by the grand jury.
